Executive Summary & Valuation

This is not a routine repossession dispute. On February 26, 2026, I was kidnapped or held hostage, inside my own home (which is my vehicle, a 2010 Kia Sedona) while it was lifted into the air by a tow crew. I repeatedly yelled "STOP!" and explained the law (breach of the peace). They raised the vehicle higher. I called 911. Clackamas County Sheriff's deputies arrived, treated me as the threat, held hand on firearm, possibly drew without pointing at me, seized my waist-bag, claiming possible threat after I had shown I am obviously not one (Waist-bag containing ID, wallet, psoriasis medication, keys, whatever else I felt like having in it while in my home), forced me barefoot into 35F conditions, and left me with nothing. The lender then hiked the release fee from $600 to $1,000 explicitly as punishment after hearing the full story. I also have no idea how I was located.

Settlement range: $8 million – $18 million (or higher at trial). This is driven by:

- Video evidence of the lift/kidnapping while occupied.
- Recorded call admission, based on memory, recoded by the loan company: I said (calmly), "so you're telling me he (The Representatives Boss) heard the story where the cops left me without shoes or a jacket and took everything I own and he said raise the price?" They confirmed the hike and later claimed "because they detained you." I corrected: "They didn't detain me. They just took everything I have."

- In the same phone call, telling me they own all of my belongings.
- Telling me, around 3-4 times, on their recorded phone calls, that retrieving any of my items whatsoever requires me to hand the key to them.
- Internal investigation (conducted without my request) clearing me and noting no refusal or malicious intent on my part.
- Spoliation risk: Debt collectors must retain call recordings for 3 years (12 CFR 1006.100). Litigation was foreseeable the moment I said “I will take it to court.” Missing recordings = adverse inference + sanctions.

Factual Background & Timeline

For the last year, my 2010 Kia Sedona hasn't just been my car. It's been my home. It hasn't been an easy road; the company I bought it from, Steel Lending Group, was a loan provider for an auto-sales company sold me an okay car with hidden engine codes they'd cleared just to move the metal. I agreed to pay one-hundred-eighty dollars a month for sixty months which was already very high for what I was receiving. A 2010 Kia Sedona in perfect condition is probably worth around six-thousand. When I was handed the paperwork on the day I walked out with the key, it had changed to two-hundred-ninety eight dollars a month for sixty months. That is around fourteen thousand dollars for a 2010 car that needed work to continue running well, But I needed it, if was going to be my only place to live. I paid one month. Then looked very carefully at the loan agreement again. It is missing signatures and the signatures that are there are just a check line thing. If it is considered valid as is (pretending as if the price hadn't changed), then it was only barely valid. I disputed the loan in July-I had also signed for an ignition "kill switch" thinking that if things ever went south, they'd just disable the car. I never expected what actually came for me. I fell into hardship in July, after disputing the loan. Someone in my family was incarcerated and I had to pay for their storage unit for months. I had also emailed the loan company multiple times regarding my plans and they never once got back to me. My plans were to start making payments again as soon as I could. I updated them on why I was unable to and in all of them I tried to imply that I was still not agreeing that I owe the stated amount. I had paid around one-thousand so far and made three payments. I was planning on renegotiating the amount so that it was a fair exchange instead of me being incredibly overcharged. I figured they should get a portion the money back from the dealership for selling it so high, or accuse them of fraud, and then I would continue with my original agreement of one hundred eighty dollars. I just barely started making enough money literally less than a month ago, And was thinking about how to begin approaching it which was I don't know. I didn't know how to go about it. They hadn't even responded to me in months, I believe my last email was in November and I was getting those automated text messages that I missed a payment, but they didn't disable ignition. I had reason to believe they just weren't going to act much on a fraudulent loan.

Part One

February 26th, 2026

I heard a noise while Im laying in my bed of something hitting the front of my car. I thought someone ran into me. And then I heard the noise. Without warning, a tow crew showed up and hooked my car while I was still inside. They did not check, they were under the impression it didnt matter, although it is implicitly required to ensure keeping of peace. They didnt just hook it; they lifted me into the air a little bit, suspending me in my own home against my will. I honked at that moment, I had already been yelling for them to stop. They stopped, I asked what the hell they thought they were doing, from the back area. I told them they cannot repo it because that is not how it works. I told them they do have to check and if anyone tells them to stop they are required to by law. They said theyd let me get some of my things and thats it. I dont remember everything that was said, but most of it was not super eventful. Just me telling them that they have to put it down and then telling me a whole bunch of reasons they dont have to that are false. I also moved up to front seat in a moment where were away, talking. As I moved toward the front seat to better establish myself and eectively communicate, I picked up a golf club that was in my path. The younger tow guy opened my door right then and used that moment to yell loudly "Do not threaten me with a golf club", I said I am not threatening you in any way, Im just moving it and while Im saying this he looks down and sees a hatchet that I keep in my doors pocket, living in my vehicle I like having protection within reach at all times, he slammed the door after seeing it and backed o. He cannot legally open my door. I recall the other driver said his partner said that I had threatened him, I told him I did not .They kept talking to me. It was definitely slightly heated. I took the first video at some point during this, and at one point, they threatened to drive away with me in the car. I called that out directly as kidnapping.

Video 1: https://youtube.com/shorts/61aA95r6Fb8?si=wy0P01ycIsKB_FMe (tow crew lifting while occupied.)

Towards the end of us talking, I was very fed up and they were actively still breaking the law and telling me the laws Im referring to do not exist. They do. I said something like "You fucks, just get the fcks away from my car and let it down, you pathetic little bitches". Then the younger one quickly raised my vehicle further into the air. I believe it was all the way up. Likely because I insulted him, or because they almost followed through with the full on cut and dry kidnapping. Still though, they have now either committed kidnapping or theyre holding me hostage, it is entirely against my will, they increased my elevation which is technically changing my location, and now theyre not just mistaken about laws. I called 911 because I was being held against my will, with the threat of relocation and having literally everything taken, illegally, no court order. The dispatcher said not to worry and that officers were on their way to help. But when the police arrived, they didn't help me. They came to finish the job, even if that meant killing me.

Note: If they did call the cops on me, why would they be confident the police will be on their side when calling them at all is an admission to a breach of peace? If they did call, I do not think that's a coincidence.

Part Two

The tow crew had spent the minutes before the cops reached my window "priming" them with lies. They might've called the police as well. I recall them threatening to but I'm not sure when they would've. I wasn't nervous about that because I knew I had the legal right for absolutely everything I did and more, because I was in the vehicle and it is my home, they had absolutely no right from the moment they touched my belongings. They told the officers I was making threats of physical violence—a total fabrication designed to make the police view me as a threat, potentially a lethal threat with how absurdly strict and cautious the police officer was being with me right after she just stood there talking to the tow truck drivers face-to-face. The truth is, under Oregon law, I had every right to use force to defend my home from being stolen. But I didn't. That alone should've had the officer not assuming that I would attack the officer for any reason like it doesn't even make sense that I would. I'm the one that called 911. While, understandably and rightfully, being verbally aggressive, I stayed completely physically calm. I didn't put hands on anyone, I did not use any of the means I had to protect my home, it would've required physically harming the criminal tow truck drivers and I did not want to, although I had every right as long as I was not using lethal force. It crossed my mind, and I knew I could, but it didn't sound worth it. Looking back it is very possible that if I had used force to defend my property from the very beginning, I still would've been the one that called 911 after disabling their ability to walk and I would be on the ground outside of my vehicle and they wouldn't have had the opportunity to prime the officer and they likely would've gotten arrested for refusing to drop my vehicle. The tow crew had set a very dangerous trap. The female officer didn't act like a "peace officer." She acted like a mercenary. She approached my vehicle with her hand touching or obviously near her firearm, not drawn, treating me like a combatant, she declared that I need to put my hands up or she would use any and all means to protect herself from a threat. I had been setup for a proxy murder. Who approaches a raised vehicle with someone who called for help with extreme caution, making sure to maintain distance, and visibly fully prepared to draw her weapon. She had already decided was going to happen. She told me to get out. I told her, no because shes supposed to be stopping them from stealing my car and because I was still suspended in the air. She said she was responding to someone who was causing an altercation and making physical threats, she had been lead to believe I was dangerous enough that seeing my hands was an absolute requirement of speaking to me. She asked if there were any weapons and I said it depends on whatmemean, I dont really consider myself to have any weapons unless protection counts as weapons. She listed items, the hatchet in my door and the golf club. The tow truck driver shouldnt have known it was in my door. Him and the ocer overlooked that. I answered and said I do have those items, I listed knives and a fire arm and probably more since shes considering a golf club a weapon. She asked where the firearm was, I said in a satchel in the back. She kept talking to me and said that if I dont get out necessary force to remove me for trespassing would be used, even though I was being held hostage and the tow drivers had already trespassed, I was in no way trespassing and literally suspended high up in the air.

I just wanna point out. She is now accusing a guy who was being held against his will elevated in the air of trespassing. I cant even leave and its in my car. Im trespassing? This part is so strange to me that Im like questioning my memory, but Im nearly positive. This is what happened. There was also a moment where she asked how the driver knew that the hatchet was in the door which confused me too, and then I remembered the door being open, and I only yesterday remembered that he definitely opened the door while I was moving to the front and he looked like he was going to attack me when he said to not attack him. I can see the face in my head. Why on earth was he opening my door.

During traumatizing situations like this you can accidentally fabricate memories, but I feel very sure Im not doing that, the only thing similar is that parts are kind of squashed together and the timeline is only solid if Im going beginning to end. Nothing feels like maybe it did or didnt happen besides a firearm being drawn by the ocer, though if it was, it was never pointed at me. I cannot think of another reason besides trespassing that a cop could justify removing somebody from a vehicle using physical force unless they were arresting for trespassing or being called a threat by someone I dont know, I dont know what else it could be.

Part Three

She said other ocers were on their way and it was going to be physical removal by any means and if I went in the back of my car or she couldnt see my hands. That they would be protecting themselves against someone with a firearm. So now that its either physical assault and jail time, or my death, I agreed to step out of home that was being stolen. She had to order the tow guys to lower me-the ultimate proof that I was being held against my will-but even then, she didnt arrest them or bat an eye. She remained turned on me. She would not allow me to get my shoes or anything. I stepped out, using the outside handle to open the door, at her request. I think she mightve actually drawn her firearm when I said I have one inside of my vehicle which is my home. She saw my waist bag and asked me whats inside it, I said its no ones business whatsoever and that I had done nothing wrong and Im not consenting to anything i absolutely do not have to because I had done nothing wrong at all. Thats about when the other ocers showed up.

They wanted to pat me down, I said no but then they said if I dont consent then they will use physical force to detain me and search me. I allowed a pat down of waist and partially my legs where its possible for someone to conceal a weapon and thats it. She did that and then immediately after the guy ocer said that they gave reason to believe I have weapons and may harm them and that, plus acting weird, was responsible suspicion to remove my waist-bag which has all my essential items in it, wallet, I.d. Psoriasis treatment, chargers, keys, pens, etc., I said no I do not consent, I kept repeating no and stop and he just said touch me and Ill use physical force.

He removed it, I did not touch him, and then he said its heavy so he believes there is a firearm, then he opened my vans door and threw it in the back of my van, my shoes were likely right in front of him when he opened the door. Instead of following the law, the ocer tried to use "logic" to argue why the lender had the right to take my home. They refused to let me get a jacket or anything at all which I needed since they decided to help criminals commit a crime and steal my only shelter. I am currently in someone else vehicle theyre letting me sleep in. With little or no heat depending on if I can get more propane. I have no wallet, no id, no money. Literally the police helped someone steal all of that from me. They forced me out of my home under the threat of lethal force.

Part Four

Then, they did the unthinkable. They left me for dead. In the cold, later freezing cold, they barred me from getting back into my car to grab my shoes, my jacket, or my antibiotics I could need if my infection came back and I need my psoriasis medication to look okay and not itch and crack. They didnt arrest me. They didnt detain me in any ocial way, no declaration. They just took my home and left me barefoot on the pavement.

I had to walk a long distance with no shoes, and by the time I stopped, my leg was in so much pain I couldnt move it for over a day. I had spoken to Steel lending immediately after. They said six hundred for my van and that I have to return my key to access my belongings. Thats illegal. Now, Lending Group is trying to extort me. They hiked my release fee from six hundred to one thousand, claiming I was "detained" - another lie to squeeze money out of a man they just made homeless. They are claiming they "own" my personal stu now.

They dont. They are a lienholder, not an owner, and not even a rightful lien holder at that, I am the owner, this was very literally state assisted robbery and multiple felonies were committed against me. The tow company also said that i cannot access any of items that day because the oce was closing soon and she did not want to. I made it very clear I was without shoes, a jacket, my ID, and shelter. I was supposed to come in the next morning but I lacked transportation, money for the bus, well fitting shoes to walk in, and my leg was killing me. I havent been mobile in a long time because I have reduced energy from being on antibiotics last summer and have not fully recovered. Five miles in someone elses shoes after standing on the cold concrete tore my psoas apart, and I couldnt really move my leg after. I can still only walk about a block before it starts hurting again. The people in the uniforms that night werent enforcing laws; they were cosplaying as heroes while helping a tow company commit a kidnapping, robbery, didnt bat an eye at attempted proxy murder, likely with conspiracy to commit, acted as a court, lied about laws. They didnt protect and serve. They assisted in a robbery and left a human being to freeze in the dark. Then they stood in a circle, talked and laughed in front of me. They do not deserve badges. They deserve time.

I need my belongings returned to me eective immediately. I have already suffered days without heat, in someone elses shoes and hoodie and Im still freezing cold. Im going to need compensation for trauma and damages. I will get them one way or the other. I now want Steel lending removed as a lien holder for taking part in these acts in any way. I intend to press charges for everything, whether it be only the tow company, and the individual ocers or Steel lending as well, for anything that my lawyer sees as viable, which I promise is going to be substantial considering my undeniable evidence of parts of this incident, I am not sure. I will be suing every party involved and even this doesnt feel like it could possibly be enough. I have the ocers plate numbers and the end of this atrocity is timed stamped.

Part Five

(Written later in the day than the previous account.)

A few notes I forgot; Right after it happened I called Steel Lending and then I told the representative a story and they said they were gonna call me back with the number for the price and then they give me the phone number for the tow company so I can get my stuff back, as long as I return the key to whoever meets me at the lot. I called the tow company the tow company wont give me a location for the vehicle and they say that they cant and that theyre not gonna allow me to get any of my stu back until the next day. I think thats illegal in Oregon. I said on the phone you realize were talking about my shoes my jacket like literally everything I own, I dont even have shelter. I have nowhere to go and youre saying tomorrow she said yeah our oce is almost gonna close, that was that.

Later, Steel Lending Group called me back and they say that its six-hundred to get my car back. They couldve contacted me and tried to talk to me at any time. They acted like six hundred was cheap and it was nice of them. Then Steel Lending calls me again the next morning and says that they changed their mind from six hundred. They said the boss heard about how I acted during this thing and he didnt like it because I was withholding his property. Which is false, he should not be calling it his property. A claim of Interest is not ownership. Now its actually one-thousand because he didnt like my actions. According to the Steel Lending, I should not have defended my home in any way. They also said that all of my belongings are now theirs. That they have the right to all of my stu. He said the words "if theres a firearm in the back", like a threat of some kind. I cut him o and said youre never gonna know if theres a fire in the back because you do not have any right to look through any of my things and he said "thats all ours now" , as in representatives boss owns everything I have. I just clarified everything, the reasoning behind every aspect of the situation, to the best of knowledge and ability at the time, in order to have it in recording. I didnt record it, but they have it and if they dont keep it thats illegal because they know that theres gonna be a lawsuit or court or something about this from the phone call, I didnt tell him directly, but he kept telling me to take it to court and I said I will.

So they have to save it now or it will be spoilation. I have the log, and I have an email to Superior Towing with the DOJ, The Board of Towing (No Jurisdiction on Repo's), DTTS. Or they are destroying some kind of evidence. My leg doesnt hurt so bad now, it still hurts but not as bad.

(Update: Still struggling to walk further than a mile). Im still cold and my feet hurt from being cold and Im lucky I didnt get frostbite and so are those police ocers, theyre actually theyre lucky Im not literally dead.

I am taking all the action that I can. I have no actual shelter or means of income now. I am trying to be grateful for a chair to sleep in. I have no current access to my belongings. Theres so many ways to say this too like every aspect of it. Its like mind-bogglingly fucked up. I was left by police ocers stranded without water or money or shoes or a jacket or a charger. I was left worse o than your average homeless person by a lot. I was set up to die. If not intentionally, which I think it was, then due to negligence.

Days later: Smaller Details I think I left out

Added today, March 6th, 2026

I wrote this how I write, not how I recount facts, although the actions described are as factual as my memory can reconstruct. I can't remember what order things were said in exactly, or exactly what I said. I think I left these out because I was doing my best to keep it to what I could remember word for word and also in the correct order. It should all be on the body cam footage. The local law says they're not allowed to turn it off until the interaction is over. The laughing probably isn't on body cam footage, even though they were near enough I could shout to them, they were done interacting with me.

Near the end of the whole interaction part of this ordeal, I remember a tiny piece of paper being handed to me by the tall asian officer and it was just a phone number for my lender. That is the only information I was given at all.

The white male officer, bald I think, irish-spring maybe, had removed my waist-bag, thrown into my van after saying it was heavy so he thinks there is a gun. A reasonable suspicion after removing it from me while I protested, throwing what he suspected was a gun, just tossing into the van to be driven away, was probably reasonable too. The van pulled away, that was the first moment it was really happening for me, I realized they took everything.

I said "You're going to just let them drive away?!"

He said, the male who unlawfully seized my waist-bag, the only one speaking or who will speak for most of this and from this point on, "This is a civil dispute. We have no right to stop him from driving away right now."

They had coerced me out of the van, which I had intended to stand my ground in, by saying they'd either hurt me and have my van taken, or by killing me in my van, and then having it taken, probably into custody, defeating the entire purpose of the interaction, and successfully restoring the peace, but who knows. Maybe they'd just role my body out and hope the blood isn't obvious with how much their buddies the double, or triple, named Superior Car Agency (Superior Auto towing? Superior Auto Recovery? I am so much better than you Auto-matically that your taxes pay for my fire power, Just Try a Recovery & Towing?) needed my well lived in van. I should be more thoughtful, maybe they needed my van or they'd go out of business :(, let's cry together about their hardship. Maybe it is a good thing they made me step off the only ground I had to defend in this "civil dispute".

In complete seriousness it was a civil dispute, until I was intentionally mischaracterized, and then had that mischaracterization used against me, my life in the balance, so the Superior Company, the mysterious one that was there, in order to force me to fumble the ball via threats of violence, made be the cops, as an assist, could win within "civility".

The situation: from standing my ground, to having that ground become the method of holding me to where I had no option of exit, to being treated like threat while not even being able to move, to then being forced to move. The sequence of the forced movement being, Superior lower the vehicle, Talon keep your hands where I can see them and take a leap to the concrete in your socks so I can talk to you, because I won't talk to you while you're in your home near those weapons you already could've used to defend your home at any point but didn't, and while we talk, we'll let the Superior guys get your vehicle to the point they can drive it away, and then we'll let them, while we take the last of your belongings, hand them to superior and let them drive away, so that we can assess this civil matter appropriately.

Anyway, the van pulled away, I am handed a phone number. I tell the police they just helped those guys steal everything from me, I tell them they just took everything. He says "Well officer Chloe just gave you all the information, explained what you can do." (don't quote me on that, but I'm nearly positive he called an officer Choe, officer Chloe, like poking fun at him, or maybe his name is Chloe and I'm sexist and deserved this, I have no idea why he said Chloe, like Kla-oh-ee).

I said, "No, he didn't. I don't know anything besides that you took everything that I have." There might've been an "Illegally." at the end. I think there was, but that sounds too much like a movie.

He said, head blinding me, "well," looks me up and down while I stare, "I suggest you call somebody for help." Looks at my phone like, 'we didn't take EVERYthing'.

I say, "I did call for help" still staring at him, "look at what I got." I raise my hands slightly palms out with my phone laying flat in my hand the only thing left, close to sliding to a fall.

He's been mostly staring right back. I didn't break eye contact. He looks at the ground, steps back and lifts the foot he left behind a little bit before placing it by his other. "well.. I'm sorry you feel that way"

Then he turns and walks towards his suv, all three officers had their own. The other two just shrug a little or something, I don't know because I glanced at them and then kept staring at the back of the bald guys head. He looks like he could be my deceased Grandfather's baby brother. They all walk over and gather in a little circle. Then after a couple moments of me continuing to stand on the side walk in my socks, staring, furious, sad, empty, wanting to scream or lunge. I hear them and feel like I'm hallucinating but I can see them moving too, they're chuckling, chuckling to where there rocking back and forth just a bit. I yell, "Really!?" he looks, " You're laughing!? You think this is funny!?"

he says "no, we a... we were laughing about this other case we just did earlier"

I pull out my phone and you can see the video. They're not even far away. I am a good throw. There were probably rocks around. I could put a football in an eye from that far. I am such a threat that I filmed instead of even considering that. I would've been safer in jail, one would be half blind, and I wouldn't be shocked if it could be spun into traumatic response that I can't be blamed for because of the world shattering experience those officers just forced me through. I will never see a badge as something I can trust again. I don't know if I will be able to have one stand by so I can retrieve my belongings. If I do it is purely utility. I will feel more in danger for it.

- Clackamas County Sheriff's Department internal investigation claimed no wrong doing by the Police.
- Phone recordings (if preserved) spoliation notice demanded
- My ID and all personal property still held hostage.
- I was treated like a violent threat as a coercion tactic to remove me from the vehicle, which was definitely eating with a repo that I've already committed breach of peace.

Legal Claims

- Kidnapping 2nd Degree (ORS 163.225), Coercion (ORS 163.275), Robbery 3rd (ORS 164.395), Criminal Mistreatment 2nd (ORS 163.200) Tow Company

- FDCPA violations (15 U.S.C. 1692) + Oregon UDAP (ORS 646.639) Lender (extortion, false representations, retaliatory fee)
- I am half expecting spoliation of evidence, at least somewhere, but if they don't then I believe everyone involved has incriminated themselves (adverse inference + sanctions under FRCP 37(e))

If this is not at all likely then I am not sure how. I think this is related to something bigger too. I was told the Police who showed up are the main guys on the Clackamas drug task force. They have been mistreating my Father for years now. They asked me if drugs were involved, when I am the one who called 911.

There is another incident that was involved in that makes me think this is related to more than the simple story on the surface. I will copy and paste that document to the end of this one.

The Injury for both, for everything covered, is currently ongoing.

A Literal Recollection of What Was Done

This is a real mind fuck because I am sitting with nothing, the police are directly responsible, and I was not even put in handcuffs and I zero criminal record besides a DUII that I completed diversion for, so everything was dismissed.

There is likely more to the thing about drugs that I mentioned, but this also might have to do with just like families of cops and my last name or something. I'm pretty sure Mark Felt is my Grandfather's cousin. I know there are no records in my grandfather for giant sections of his life and I have a reason to believe that he worked on things with NASA and internally in the FBI neither which is currently completely on paper besides possible pseudonyms. It could be anything but according to what I'm told, the drug task force showed up to my 911 call about being held hostage and a repossession situation where a piece have had obviously been breached. The 911 operator told me the police are coming to help me out. The law had obviously been broken. I don't see you can argue that especially if the cops need to be called that there wasn't a breach of peace. I don't see how you could possibly argue that. The police who are also the drug task force are helping repo guys break the law and they ask me if there are drugs involved, and there was a visible reaction when I said my last name.

The police treated me like a dangerous threat and didn't even formally detained me. This is my property directly off my body has a reasonable suspicion for being able to do so was at first because he thought I was acting weird about my bag. That's what he said, and then the second reasonable suspicion excuse required him to already have removed it from my body. He felt around on the bag. All he said was that it was heavy. Which he says is a reasonable suspicion to assume that there is a firearm inside. He had already seized it. He didn't do any paperwork about it, and he threw it in my van. So as far as I'm aware, the leader of the drug task force of Clackamas County illegally seized a bag off of my body city. He thinks there's a gun in it, and then he threw it inside my van for a tow company to take after being a part of coercing me out of the vehicle, and then intentionally leaving me without shoes without a jacket without a way to charge my phone without water without any reasonable way of me even surviving the night. That is through and through a set up to die of hypothermia. I don't even think there's a shelter within walking distance. I said you guys aren't even gonna let me grab my shoes. He looked at me and he said it's warm outside. It was currently 50 and the day doesn't last forever. It was already afternoon. The sun set was about three hours from that moment.

My feet are painfully cold as I'm writing this. I still haven't had a change of clothes. Some of my clothes have been slightly wet more than once. I'm grateful that I was able to find a way to get shelter, but I did not know if I was going to be able to and I directly told him that I have nowhere to go.

Spoliation Preservation Demand

All parties are on notice: preserve every call recording from Feb 26–28, 2026. Any destruction equals spoliation. Federal courts routinely instruct juries to assume the missing evidence proves exactly what I have stated.

Next Steps for Counsel

This is a contingency-only case. No upfront fees. The evidence seems solid as far as I can tell, though I am not well versed in lawsuits. I believe the exposure for defendants is catastrophic. Please contact me immediately to discuss representation. I am ready to file in federal court (1983 claim) and will provide all originals I am able to the court, this includes the videos I linked, my original copy of the loan documents if I can retrieve them, and anything else I am not thinking of. I also plan on demanding to my lender that they instruct Superior Towing to release all of my belongings immediately, including the vehicle. If you guys take this case, or if you just want to give some advice, I am wondering if you have any recommendations on how to go about that.

Sincerely,
Talon Jeffrey Felt

P.S. I am perfectly willing to try and make this a national news story of some kind if it will help the case or anyone else going through something at all similar.

Additional Information

I already added some things throughout this document but I believe I failed to be specific about what else I've done since the incident. I have emailed the towing company with a demand letter to return my vehicle, and I showed them the evidence that it was an illegal repossession. Perhaps this wasn't the right decision, but I need my life back. I think I might make it again. I guess I did give them a chance to prepare, but I don't think you can prepare well enough when you've broken laws so blatantly like this. Maybe I'm wrong, but I don't see how an extra week at the most couldn't make any real difference for them here are exact copies of what was sent to the tow company where the DOJ, DSST, the Board of towing, someone from the consumer protections for Oregon the Lending company and I believe that is all. I'm mostly worried. I said something wrong although I don't think I did. I also forgot to mention they didn't give me a good email and they requested that I emailed them and I had no way to contact. I still don't really have a way to contact them. I have no idea if this is the right email for them.

Subject: FORMAL DEMAND & COMPLAINT: Illegal Occupied Repossession (Feb 26, 2026) Evidence Preservation Required

This is(I left out is) Talon Jeffrey Felt writing. I am sending to the address I was told, and to the companys website-listed address for completeness, with CCs to oversight authorities.

Below I detail a small portion of the events that occurred on February 26th to establish the serious nature of this communication. The offenders are as listed.

- Steel Lending Group LLC
- Superior Towing
- The Clackamas County Sheriffs Department

To Superior Towing Management and Oregon State Oversight: This serves as formal notice of a civil rights and criminal complaint regarding the events of February 26th, 2026.

I was inside the vehicle from the very beginning, up until I was illegally coerced and threatened to exit. From the moment I protested, the continued possession and handling of my vehicle and property has constituted unlawful conversion. This left me without essential belongings, exposed me to serious risk and continues to. This statement represents only a small portion of the offenses but underscores the urgent need for immediate remedy.

1. THE INITIAL VIOLATION (ORS 79.0609): Superior Towing performed an illegal, occupied repossession by hoisting my vehicle while I was inside and continuing to lift it fully off the ground despite my protests. Under Oregon law, this constitutes a "breach of the peace," rendering the repossession unlawful. That is just the beginning. I was left without shoes, shelter, warmth, identification documents, any means to do much of anything at all. I was left in a position to die.

2. POLICE MISCONDUCT: Clackamas County Deputies assisted this private civil matter by using threats of force and illegally seizing my personal property (waist bag) without a warrant, based on an unreasonable reasonable suspicion. If the suspicion was reasonable, I would have been arrested or formally detained and placed in handcuffs, not simply abandoned without shoes or property.

3. EVIDENCE PRESERVATION MANDATE: The Clackamas County Records Clerk (CC'd) is hereby notified to IMMEDIATELY PRESERVE all Body-Worn Camera (BWC) and Dash-Cam footage from this encounter. Any destruction of this footage will be treated as spoliation of evidence in the pending litigation. The event took place on 8707 Southeast Otty Rd., Happy Valley, Oregon, on February 26th at around 2:45pm-3:45pm. The license plates of the responding officers are:

- E 296604
- E 299202
- E 29597*

I was unable to get the last number of one of them, but the other two are on video and they were all at the same location so Im sure all three can easily be identified.

4. FINAL DEMAND: To mitigate your immediate legal and civil liability, I demand the immediate delivery of the vehicle and all seized personal property to the address below for $0.00. The personal property will remain untouched and I will make a list of any and all damages. It is in your best interest to have it off your property immediately and delivery to the requested address is the only reasonable solution.

I also sent a notice to the Multnomah County Police Department (Every Email I could find) that I was going to reclaim my vehicle. It didn't pan out but I got the video of being refused. I hadn't realized that the person I was with was on probation. They weren't supposed to have any contact with police whatsoever so I wasn't able to call the police like I planned. It was irritating because I told them beforehand that I was going to do that and they agreed to come and they were gonna just go hide somewhere and I just didn't wanna do it alone at that point.

Formal Notice - Intent to Peacefully Reclaim My Property from 6048 N Columbia Way (Unlawful Repo - Evidence Attached/Linked)

To whom it may concern at Multnomah County Sheriffs Office and Portland Police Bureau,
Please forward this immediately to the proper person(s) especially any deputies or officers who cover North Portland or the area around 6048 N Columbia Way, Superior Recovery / Superior Towing. If anyone else needs to see this right away, please forward it to them. I know there may not be one single exact email for this, but I need official documentation that law enforcement has been notified.

I am formally notifying you that I am going to reclaim my own 2010 Kia Sedona (VIN: KNDMG4C34A6326991) and all my personal property (wallet, ID, medications, shoes, jacket, keys, etc.) from Superior Recovery at 6048 N Columbia Way, Portland, OR 97203.

• • • • •

The repossession on February 26, 2026 was unlawful from the start because it was a breach of the peace per se (ORS 79.0609(2)(b)): the vehicle was occupied by me (my only home), I protested and honked, they lifted it off the ground anyway. Deputies responded, threatened force, clearly implied lethal, seized my waist bag without consent, forced me out barefoot into 35F, and left me with nothing. Steel Lending then raised the fee from $600 to $1,000 in retaliation and claimed my personal property as theirs at one point. This is wrongful conversion and potential theft (ORS 164.015) by withholding my property.

Evidence I am acting legally(incorporated by reference):

- Near beginning of incident: https://youtube.com/shorts/61aA95r6Fb8?si=9FD_izR_nN1JRKzR
- Just before or after calling 911: <https://youtube.com/shorts/V9pR623jo0w?si=YLvawe4n7cT7UZ9X>
- Immediately after: https://youtube.com/shorts/4U_xAVukheQ?si=8rkxKjicDHG2FNXG
- Full account (The title doesnt mean i feel negative towards police but unfortunately it is the truth): https://open.substack.com/pub/talonjfelt/p/why-i-will-never-again-call-911-or?r=6m18yt&utm_medium=ios

I have already notified the DOJ, the board of towing, I sent and then asked them to ignore, a motion for release, I didnt realize that starts the law suit and I do not yet have a lawyer, but I did email Multnomah County Circuit Court and have complained to the Oregon Department of Consumer and Business Services. I intend to file everything that is relevant to this case but I need stable shelter and my clothing and medical supplies and everything.

I intend to enter the property legally and reclaim what is mine. I will do this peacefully. If they refuse to allow me to get my personal items, I will have to call the non-emergency line or 911 for assistance retrieving my personal property (civil standby / officer assistance for peaceful retrieval of my own belongings in an emergency situation caused by their unlawful actions).

• • • • •

This email creates the official record that I notified law enforcement in advance, that I am acting legally based on the breach of peace, and that I have evidence proving it.

I plan on doing this today, likely around 5:30pm. I may do it tomorrow if Im unable to follow through.

Contact me immediately if needed, please leave a voicemail if calling and I will get back to you shortly. Thank you:

1. This Buyer's Order constitutes a legally binding and enforceable contract. In the event of default by the buyer, including, but not limited to, any dishonor of a check by reason of non-sufficient funds or stop payment, or any other failure to make payment or otherwise comply with the terms and conditions of this Purchase Order.

2. Buyer warrants that Buyer's driver's license is valid and not in a suspended or revoked status. In addition, Buyer warrants that Buyer has obtained such insurance as required by State law. In no way is Dealer responsible if a Government Entity refuses to transfer title to Buyer's name and to issue a Certificate of Title. Such refusal does NOT invalidate the sale or relieve Buyer of the obligations of this contract.

3. If an amount greater than zero appears in the Payoff Estimate portion of this contract, Buyer hereby agrees to pay off the Payoff Estimate. If the actual payoff amount is more than the amount shown in Payoff Estimate, Buyer understands additional payment is due to dealer upon demand. If the actual payoff amount is less than the amount shown in the Payoff Estimate the dealer will apply said amount to any balance due or refund the amount direct to the Buyer. Except as noted herein, Buyer guarantees Title to the trade vehicle is free and clear of all encumbrances, except as noted herein, and promises to deliver same to the dealer.

4. Buyer grants to Dealer a security interest in the vehicle being purchased by the Buyer, and agrees Dealer or assigns shall be placed on the Certificate of Title as lien holder or legal owner.

6. Buyer guarantees any trade-in vehicle (s) to be free from any liens or attachments whatsoever except as shown in the Trade Lien holder portion of this contract. Buyer further warrants no government agency or other entity as notified Buyer of any lien to be applied, or threatened to be applied, at a future date. As to each trade-in vehicle Buyer warrants the following:

- A. That the vehicle has not been involved in any collision resulting in any body or chassis damage, and does not contain any hidden mechanical defects or hidden defects of the body or chassis.
- B. - F. That the vehicle's emission control equipment is intact, standard to the vehicle, and that no part of the system has been removed or altered.
- G. That the vehicle has never sustained flood or water damage.
- H. That the odometer has not been replaced, rolled back, or otherwise tampered with, and that the mileage reflected on the odometer is the actual mileage on the vehicle.
- I. Airbag Disclosure: Whether Buyer is acquiring a new or used vehicle, Buyer acknowledges that Dealer makes no representation about whether an airbag switch is installed in the Vehicle and whether the airbags are activated or deactivated, or whether the airbags have ever been deployed, or whether the airbags are functional and fit for a particular purpose or performance. Buyer is advised to have the Vehicle's airbags independently inspected and to check for an airbag switch prior to use of the Vehicle and to decide whether to activate or deactivate the airbags at the time depending on Buyer's use of the Vehicle.

7. Severability: If any part of this contract is held, in a court of competent jurisdiction, to be invalid or inapplicable, all remaining parts shall be enforceable to the greatest extent allowed.

8. Purchaser agrees that this order includes all of the Terms and Conditions on both pages of this document. If this order is for a used vehicle, the information on the window form of the vehicle is also a part of this order and overrides any contrary provisions of this order. This order further cancels and supersedes any prior agreement between the parties. By executing this order, purchaser certifies that he/she has read and accepts all of the Terms and Conditions contained herein and has received a true copy of this order.

9. Limitation on Warranties: Dealer makes no express warranties except as may be set forth in any written limited warranty granted to the purchaser. As to the implied warranties of merchantability and fitness, the same shall be modified, disclaimed, or excluded as provided in a separate writing furnished to purchaser by Dealer in the form of a Limited Warranty or a Disclaimer of Warranties.

10. The "Total Vehicle Sales Price" listed on page one of this Agreement includes reimbursement of Federal Excise taxes, but does not include sales taxes or use taxes. Buyer agrees to pay, unless prohibited by law, any such sales, use or occupation taxes imposed on or applicable to the transaction covered by this Agreement, regardless of which party may have the primary tax liability. Regardless of the amount of sales tax listed on the front of this Agreement, or if the sales tax line is left blank, Dealer makes no representation as to the amount of sales or other taxes that may be imposed on the sale. Buyer is liable for all sales taxes imposed by law including an understatement of such herein.

Security. I am giving a security interest in the goods or property being purchased.

Late Charge. For each payment that is not paid within 10 days after its scheduled payment date, I will pay a late charge of 5% of the delinquent installment.

Prepayment. If I pay early, I will not have to pay a penalty.

See other contract provisions for any additional information about nonpayment, default and any required repayment in full before the scheduled date.

Payments and Finance Charge Calculation. I will pay you the Total of Payments according to "My Payment Schedule" shown above. Any payment listed on the first line of the schedule is a deferred downpayment which does not bear a Finance Charge. The payments listed on the second line of the schedule are equal consecutive monthly payments which are due on the same day of each month, beginning on the date shown. However, the amount of the last payment will be adjusted to include a Finance Charge figured on the Principal Balance I owed, for the time I owed it. I will pay a Finance Charge on the Principal Balance outstanding each day at the Annual Percentage Rate. The Total of Payments and Finance Charge shown above assume I will pay exactly as agreed. If I pay late or less than the required payment, the Finance Charge is increased. If I pay early or more than the required payment, the Finance Charge is decreased. Changes may take the form of a larger or smaller final payment or, at your option, more or fewer payments of scheduled payments with a smaller final payment. My payments will be applied to earned and unpaid finance charges, principal, and other amounts I owe in any order you choose.

☒ Electronic Signature Acknowledgment. You agree that (i) you viewed and read this entire Contract before signing it, (ii) you signed this Contract with one or more electronic signatures, (iii) you intend to enter into this Contract and your electronic signature has the same effect as your written ink signature, and (iv) the authoritative copy of this Contract shall reside in a document management system held by Seller in the ordinary course of business. The Seller may convert that authoritative copy to a paper original. That paper copy will have your electronic signature on it. It will have the same effect as if you had signed it originally on paper. You understand that Seller may transfer this Contract to another company in the electronic or paper form. Seller or that other company may enforce this Contract in the electronic form or as a paper version of that electronic form.

You shall be charged a reasonable per mile cost for the use of the motor vehicle. Fair market value of repairs of the lost vehicle may be set off by the Dealer against any deposit refund due to you. TERMS AND CONDITIONS

NOTICE: ANY HOLDER OF THIS CONSUMER CREDIT CONTRACT IS SUBJECT TO ALL CLAIMS AND DEFENSES WHICH THE DEBTOR COULD ASSERT AGAINST THE SELLER OF GOODS OR SERVICES OBTAINED PURSUANT HERETO OR WITH THE PROCEEDS HEREOF. RECOVERY HEREUNDER BY THE DEBTOR SHALL NOT EXCEED AMOUNTS PAID BY THE DEBTOR HEREUNDER.

THE PRECEDING NOTICE APPLIES ONLY TO GOODS OR SERVICES OBTAINED PRIMARILY FOR PERSONAL, FAMILY OR HOUSEHOLD USE

1. Collection Costs: If I don't make any payment when due according to my payment schedule shown on page 2 of this contract, I will pay you reasonable amounts permitted by law which you spend to collect what I owe or in trying to repossess or sell the Property. I will also pay lawyers' fees, as set by the court, including any for appeals, that are paid or owed to lawyers who are not your salaried employees. I will pay $35.00 each time my check is returned unpaid by my bank.

2. Ownership and Risk of Loss: I agree to pay you all I owe under this contract even if the vehicle is damaged, destroyed or missing. I agree not to remove the vehicle from the United States or Canada or to sell, rent, lease or otherwise transfer any interest in the vehicle or this contract without your written permission. I agree not to expose the vehicle to misuse or confiscation. I will make sure your security interest (lien) on the vehicle is shown on the title. If you pay any repair bills, storage bills, taxes, fines, or other charges on the vehicle, I agree to repay the amount when you ask for it.

3. Security Interest: I am giving you a security interest in the Property being purchased and any accessories, equipment and replacement parts installed in the vehicle. The security interest also covers (1) insurance premiums and charges for service contracts returned to the Creditor (2) proceeds of any insurance policies or service contract on the vehicle and (3) proceeds of any insurance policies on my life or health which are financed in this contract. This secures payment of all amounts I owe on this contract and any renewal or extension of this contract. It also secures my other agreements in this contract.

4. Insurance, Liens, and Upkeep

4.1 I'll keep the Property insured by companies acceptable to you with collision and comprehensive insurance, and any other insurance you may require. The insurance policies will have your standard loss payable endorsement and I will deliver the policies to you. No one but you has a security interest or lien on the Property.

4.2 I'll pay taxes and any debts that might become a lien on the Property and will keep it free of security interests and liens, other than yours.

4.3 I'll also keep the Property in good condition and repair.

4.4 If any of the things agreed to in this Section 4 are not done, you may do them and charge me for the cost of doing so. I'll pay the cost of doing these things either on your demand, or as increased future payments or as an additional payment or payments at the end of the contract, with interest at the contract rate. Even if you do these things, my failure to do them will be a default under Section 8, and you may still use other rights you have based on the default.

4.5 Optional Insurance or Service Contracts: This contract may contain charges for optional insurance or service contracts. If the vehicle is repossessed, I agree that you may claim benefits under these contracts and terminate them to obtain refunds for unearned charges.

4.6 Insurance or Service Contract Charges Returned to you: If any charge for required insurance is returned to you, it may be credited to my account or used to buy similar insurance or insurance which covers only your interest in the vehicle. Any refund on optional insurance or service contracts obtained by you will be credited to my account. I will be notified of what is done. For purposes of the following warning only, you/your refers to the Buyer and Co-Buyer.

Unless you provide us (Creditor/Seller) with evidence of the insurance coverage as required by our contract or loan agreement, we may purchase insurance at your expense to protect our interest. This insurance may, but need not, also protect your interest. If the collateral becomes damaged, the coverage we purchase may not pay any claim you make or any claim made against you. You may later cancel this coverage by providing evidence that you have obtained property coverage elsewhere.

You are responsible for the cost of any insurance purchased by us. The cost of this insurance may be added to your contract or loan balance. If the cost is added to your contract or loan balance, the interest rate on the underlying contract or loan will apply to this added amount. The effective date of coverage may be the date your prior coverage lapsed or the date you failed to provide proof of coverage.

The coverage we purchase may be considerably more expensive than insurance you can obtain on your own and may not satisfy any need for property damage coverage or any mandatory liability insurance requirements imposed by applicable law.

5. Preference Payments: Any monies you pay or rights you give up because of an asserted preference claim in my bankruptcy will become a part of the indebtedness owing under this contract and, at your option, will (a) be payable on demand, (b) be added to the balance of the contract and be apportioned among and be payable with any installment payments to become due during the remaining term of the contract, or (c) be payable as an additional payment or payments at the end of the contract with interest at the contract rate. Or, in the event of a loss of rights, substitute collateral or performance may be substituted in your sole discretion.

6. Co-owners or Transfers: If there are any co-owners of the Property, they are all signing this contract either as a Buyer or as an "Other Owner." I won't sell the Property, lease it, loan it, or give it away.

7. Protecting Your Interests: I'll do anything that may now or later be necessary to perfect and continue your security interest in the Property and I'll pay all filing fees and other fees and costs involved.

8. Default: It will be a default:

8.1 If any payment on this contract isn't received when it is due;

8.2 If I fail to keep any agreement I have made in this contract;

8.3 If I die or become insolvent or bankrupt;

8.4 If I have given you a false financial statement, or if I haven't told you the truth about my financial situation, or about my use of the Property;

8.5 If any creditor tries, by legal process, to take money from any bank account I have or to take any money or property I may have coming from you;

8.6 If any check or other instrument given as a down payment is dishonored;

8.7 If any trade-in is subject to any lien other than the one shown on this contract, or the amount owing on it is more than the amount shown;

8.8 If the Property is sold, leased, loaned, given away, or the Property is lost, stolen, damaged, destroyed, levied upon, seized or attached. If you are required to make any payment in order to release the Property from any levy, seizure or attachment, you may add the amount of such payment to the principal balance which I then owe.

8.9 If you form a good faith belief that the prospect of my payment or performance is impaired.

9. Your Rights After Default: After a default you will have the following rights and may use any one or any combination of them at any time:

9.1 You may declare the entire contract balance immediately due and payable all at once, without notifying me.

9.2 You may sue for and recover from me the contract balance, and I will be liable for all reasonable collection costs, including reasonable lawyers' fees, at trial and on appeal, that are paid or owed to lawyers who are not your salaried employees.

9.3 You may require me to turn the Property over to you at any place you name that is reasonably convenient for both of us, and I will do it if you so demand. I agree that the location where I signed this contract is a reasonably convenient place for me.

9.4 You may take the Property from me without notice. As long as it does not cause a breach of the peace, you may enter any place where the Property is located to take it. You may also take any property that is not part of the Property, but that happens to be in or on the Property, and may hold such property in safekeeping for its owner for 30 days. If the owner doesn't claim such property, you may donate it to charity, or otherwise dispose of it without notice in any manner and on any terms you consider appropriate.

9.5 You may sell the Property and pay the amount received over and above lawful expenses, on the debt evidenced by this contract. You will send me a written notice of sale at least fifteen days before selling the vehicle. If I do not redeem the vehicle by the date on the notice, you can sell it. You will use the net proceeds of the sale to pay all or part of my debt. To the extent permitted by law, the net proceeds of sale will be figured this way: Any late charges and any charges for taking, storing, cleaning, advertising, leasing, and/or selling the vehicle and any reasonable lawyers' fees and court costs will be subtracted from the selling price. If I owe you less than the net proceeds of sale, the difference is owed to me unless you are required to pay it to someone else. For example, you may be required to pay a lender who has given me a loan and also taken a security interest in the vehicle. If I owe more than the net proceeds of the vehicle, I agree to pay you the amount I owe, when you ask for it. If I do not pay the amount I owe when asked, I may also be charged interest at the Annual Percentage Rate applicable to this contract, not to exceed the highest lawful rate, until I pay all I owe.

9.6 You will also have the rights of a secured party under the Oregon Uniform Commercial Code and other laws.

9.7 You may cancel the collision and comprehensive insurance required by subparagraph 4.1.

10. Assignment by Seller: You may transfer your rights under this contract to anyone. If you transfer this contract, the person or entity to which the contract is assigned will have the security interest and the right to insist that I perform my agreements under this contract.

11. No Assignment by Customer: I will not assign my rights under this contract or sell the Property without your written consent. Any attempted assignment without such consent will be void. No assignment or sale will terminate or change my obligations to you under this contract.

12. Waiver of Co-obligor's Rights: I irrevocably waive, disclaim and relinquish all claims against any and all other obligated with me which I have or would otherwise have by virtue of payment of the contract or any part thereof, specifically including but not limited to all rights of indemnity, contribution or exoneration.

13. Multiple Customers: If I am signing this contract with another person, I'll be jointly and individually obligated to pay the whole contract. You may require that I pay the whole contract without asking the other person to pay. I'll pay the contract even if you and the other person repeatedly agree to renew or extend it for any length of time, revise its terms, or release the security.

14. Payments: I will make payment at any address you specify and payment will not be considered made until received at that address. Any payment of less than the entire amount then due may be credited on the balance without waiving or curing any existing default.

15. Prepayment: I may prepay the unpaid balance of the Amount Financed in full or in part at any time without penalty. If I do so, I must pay the earned and unpaid part of the Finance Charge and all other amounts due up to the date of payment.

16. Consumer Paper: If the Property is not consumer goods, this contract is not Consumer Paper and is not subject to Oregon Revised Statute Section 83.820, even though the words "Consumer Paper" are printed on this contract.

17. Waiver and Use of Remedies: My timely performance is necessary under this contract. Your waiver of any breach or failure to enforce any provision of this contract is not waiver of any subsequent breach. Your rights and remedies under this contract and under law are cumulative, and may be used in any combination at any time or different times. I agree that you may release the Property or other security without affecting other rights and remedies.

18. Change of Address: I'll give you my new address in writing whenever I move. You may give me any notices by regular mail at the last address I have given you.

19. Credit Information: You are authorized to check my credit, employment, criminal records and histories and to answer questions and provide credit reporting agencies with information about your credit experience with me. I authorize any person or consumer reporting agency to complete and furnish to you any information it may have or obtain in response to your credit inquiries.

20. Title Transfer Fee: If I ask you to consent to a change of registered owner(s) of the Property and you do consent, I agree to pay you a reasonable fee for arranging the change as well as paying any filing fees or other fees paid to officials in connection with the change.

21. If the property collateral is released by you (secured party) for an agreed amount prior to maturity and which amount does not pay the amount due under the contract in full, I agree to continue regular monthly payments under the original terms of this agreement, unless agreed in writing to the contrary.

22. Servicing and collection contacts: I agree that you may try to contact me in writing, by email, or using prerecorded/artificial voice messages, text messages, and automatic telephone dialing systems, as the law allows. I also agree that you may try to contact me in these ways at any address or telephone number I provide you, even if the telephone number is a cell phone number or contact results in a charge to me. This section applies to contacts for collections and servicing purposes only. It applies regardless of whether I consent to receive autodialed and/or prerecorded telemarketing calls or text messages as provided on page 3 of this contract.

23. Contract Addendum: This contract is deemed pages 1 through 6 respectively, the front and back of any addenda attached to or incorporated by its terms into this contract are deemed paginated in continuing numerical order thereafter. Additionally, each such numbered page will also be deemed numbered in numerical sequence inclusive of all pages of this contract and any such addenda.

24. Oregon Law Applies: This contract will be governed by Oregon Law.

25. WARRANTIES SELLER DISCLAIMS: I understand that any warranties on the vehicle sold are those made by the manufacturer. I am purchasing the vehicle "as is" from you and you are not offering any warranties, either express or implied, including any implied warranties of merchantability or fitness for a particular purpose of the vehicle. Seller hereby consents that Assignee, or its successors or assigns, may, without notice to Seller, extend the time for payments under this contract, waive the performance of such terms and conditions of the contracts as it may determine, and make any reasonable settlement under the contract without affecting or limiting Seller's liability as guarantor.

Seller shall indemnify and hold harmless Assignee against all claims and defenses, whether valid or invalid, relating to the Property or acts or omission of Seller including, without limitation, any based on the Federal Consumer Credit Protection Act or other state or federal law.

DMV uses a customer based file. This enables us to link all types of DMV records together for a customer. It is important that you use your customer number and the same name when conducting business with DMV. In the case of individuals, the person's date of birth (DOB) is also important.

Customer Number for Persons: Your customer number is your Oregon driver license (ODL), Identification card (ID) or instruction permit number. Use that number on the application. If you do not have an ODL, ID card or instruction permit, DMV will assign a customer number to you when the application is received. You must use your true name on all business you conduct with DMV. This is the name you have established on your ODL, ID card or instruction permit.

Customer Number for Businesses: If you know your customer number for your business, list that number on the application. Businesses must also use the same name in all business they conduct with DMV.

Residence or Business Address: Provide the address where you primarily reside. If the owner listed is a lessee, the address of the lessee must be shown. For a business, you must provide the address of the business.

Mailing Address: If you receive your mail at an address other than the residence or business address, complete the mailing address on Lines 6 and 7.

Vehicle Address: If the vehicle is primarily housed or dispatched from an address that is different than the residence or business address, complete the vehicle address on Lines 10 and 11. Business owners-be careful not to confuse the vehicle address with your business address or mailing address.

One-time Mailing Address: If you would like the title and or registration document mailed to a one-time mailing address (other than the residence, business or mailing address), you must complete the area on Lines 10 and 11.

Change of Address: Only the address listed for the owner shown on Line 6 will be changed if it is different than what DMV records show. The address will be changed on both the vehicle and driver record. Additional owners listed on Lines 8 and 9 must complete a Change of Address, Form 735-6438, and submit it separately, or change their address online at www.oregondmv.com.

Work Address: If any person listed on the application has a work address on file with DMV: 1) for the owner, the person must be listed on Line 5 and the work address listed on Lines 6 and 7; 2) for the security interest holder, the person must be listed on Line 14 and the work address listed on Line 15. To change your address to a work address, you must be eligible pursuant to ORS 802.250 and complete a Request for Police or Public Agency Address on DMV Records, Form 735-6438A. 1 NATURE OF THIS REPORT

I am formally filing a criminal complaint for:

- First-Degree Robbery (ORS 164.415)
- Criminal Conspiracy (ORS 161.450)
- Accomplice Liability (ORS 161.155)
- Coercion (ORS 163.275)

This is not a civil matter. These events constitute a violent, armed seizure of my primary dwelling and all of my possessions, executed by private actors who were directly aided and facilitated by armed law enforcement officers.

The vehicle seized is my primary residence. I was physically inside it when it was lifted from the ground by a tow truck. I was coerced out under armed threat. Everything I own was taken with it.

2 DEFENDANTS AND THEIR ROLES

2.1 PRIMARY THEFT ACTORS:

- Superior Towing / Superior Recovery LLC executed the physical repossession and drove away with the vehicle and all contents
- Steel Lending Group LLC directed and authorized the repossession, making them principals in the theft under ORS 161.155

2.2 ACCOMPLICE ACTORS Clackamas County Sheriffs Deputies:

- Deputy badge plates on scene:
 - E 296604,
 - E 299202,
 - E 29597*
- February 26th, Approximately 2:45PM-3:45PM Otty Rd. Happy Valley

These deputies did not merely observe. Under ORS 161.155, a person is criminally liable for the conduct of another when they aid or abet the commission of a crime. Their specific acts of facilitation are documented below.

2.3 NOTICE TO ADESA PORTLAND:

Adesa Portland is currently in possession of this stolen vehicle as far as I can tell. I left a voicemail with Adesa Portland at approximately 5:00 PM on March 27, 2026, formally notifying them that the vehicle and all of its contents are stolen property taken during a First-Degree Robbery. This email is being CCd to Adesa Portland as written confirmation of that notice. As of the timestamp of that voicemail, Adesa Portland has been on formal notice. Any sale, transfer, or disposal of the vehicle or its contents after that time constitutes knowing receipt and transfer of stolen property under ORS 164.095. Adesa Portland is instructed to take no action with respect to this vehicle or its contents pending resolution of this matter.

3 The Crimes (That Add Up To First Degree Robbery)

3.1 THE UNDERLYING THEFT (ORS 164.395)

Superior Towing and Steel Lending Group executed the taking of my vehicle and all contents on February 26, 2026. Oregon law requires repossession to occur without breach of peace (ORS 79.0609). A repossession conducted over the explicit objection of an occupant physically present inside the vehicle is a breach of peace as a matter of law. The theft element is satisfied. The lien was also already under dispute.

3.2 USE OF FORCE AND THREAT OF FORCE (ORS 164.415)

First-Degree Robbery is committed when theft is accompanied by force or threatened force. The deputies provided both:

- Armed Coercion: A female deputy approached with her hand on her firearm and threatened any and all means to compel my exit from the vehicle while I was suspended in the air, inside my home, on the tow trucks lift.

- Physical Force Upon My Person: A deputy physically placed his hands on my body and removed my waist bag from me over my explicit verbal objection “dont touch me.” The removal required physical contact and force applied directly to my person. This is physical force upon another person within the meaning of ORS 164.415 regardless of injury.
- Threatened Additional Physical Force: Deputies explicitly threatened further physical force if I attempted to physically prevent the seizure of my bag. The Drivers had also threatened to drive away with me in the vehicle.

4 DEPUTIES SIGNAL COMPLETION OF THEFT (ORS 161.155)

This is the decisive act of accomplice liability. After using armed threat to extract me from my home and physically seizing property from my body, a deputy explicitly signaled the tow truck operators that they were clear to leave with my home and all of my possessions inside. This is not incidental presence at a scene. This is direct facilitation of the completion of the theft. The deputies ensured the robbery succeeded.

4.1 THE COMPLETE CHAIN:

1. Superior / Steel Lending initiated theft breach of peace under ORS 79.0609
2. Deputies arrived and used armed threat to remove me from my property
3. Deputy physically seized my waist bag from my body over explicit objection
4. Deputy signaled tow operators clear to go
5. Superior drove away with my home and all possessions
6. Superior transferred vehicle to Adesa Portland for auction
7. Result: First-Degree Robbery completed with law enforcement facilitation ORS 164.415 + ORS 161.155. Adesa Portland on formal notice of stolen status as of approximately 5:00 PM March 27, 2026.

5 COERCION ORS 163.275 ORS 163.275 defines Coercion as compelling a person to engage in conduct by threatening physical force. The deputies:

- Threatened any and all means of physical force to compel me to exit my home
- Physically seized property from my body and threatened further force to prevent me from recovering it
- Did so while I was suspended in the air, physically unable to safely resist or flee I was held involuntarily, suspended in the air inside my home, and threatened with lethal force to compel my exit. This is Coercion under ORS 163.275.

6 ENDANGERMENT FOLLOWING FORCED REMOVAL

After the armed coercion and completion of the theft, I was abandoned at the scene:

- In socks, without shoes
- Without a jacket
- Without food
- Without communication tools
- In 50F temperatures dropping to 35F
- Denied access to my own shoes, jacket, and all other possessions

I called 911. I was treated as an adversary and left with nothing.

9 CONFLICT OF INTEREST INDEPENDENT OVERSIGHT REQUIRED

Clackamas County Sheriffs deputies are named subjects of this robbery report. Clackamas County law enforcement cannot investigate crimes in which their own deputies are named perpetrators. This report is being simultaneously submitted to the Oregon State Police and FBI Portland Field Office for independent processing.

Any attempt to re-characterize these events as a “civil matter” after being notified of (a) armed use of force by law enforcement, (b) physical force applied to my person, (c) the theft of a primary dwelling, and (d) abandonment of the reporting party in dangerous conditions, will be documented and pursued as suppression of a felony report and official misconduct.

I am requesting a criminal case number be issued immediately.

Framework of Systematic Coercion & Aggregated Liability

While this breakdown identifies 52 individual, granular violations, these acts are not merely isolated incidents. They represent a continuous, half hour-long escalation of Coerced Compliance achieved through the threat of physical violence and the misuse of police authority. The following frameworks define why these separate charges must also be viewed through their aggregate impact:

- The Coercion-Battery Nexus: The defense may argue that the "request" to remove the waist bag was a standard safety procedure. However, by giving the Plaintiff the "option" of a pat-down or the application of physical force, the Defendants committed Assault to facilitate a Battery. This is a distinct violation of ORS 163.275 (Coercion) because the threat of force was used to compel the Plaintiff to surrender his constitutionally protected property.
- Constructive Robbery in the First Degree: Under ORS 164.415, robbery occurs when force or the threat of force is used to prevent resistance to the taking of property. By standing with hands on firearms while the tow operator removed the Plaintiff's home and life-essential medications, the police and tow company acted in a Joint Enterprise to commit a robbery under color of law.
- The "State-Created Danger" Doctrine: Every individual act of withholding property—refusing the jacket, refusing the shoes, and throwing the medication back into the van—contributes to a larger 1983 claim. The Defendants did not just "fail to help"; they affirmatively placed the Plaintiff in a position of peril (barefoot in 35F-50F weather) and then mocked his distress, satisfying the "deliberate indifference" standard for Aggravated IIED.
- Official Misconduct as an Umbrella: Each time an officer stated "this is a civil matter" while actively using their presence to prevent the Plaintiff from exercising his right to self-help (ORS 79.0609), they committed Official Misconduct (ORS 162.415). Each instance is a separate count, as each refusal to intervene was a new decision to allow a known crime to continue.
- Non-Merger of Claims: Under Oregon legal principles, the fact that these acts occurred during a single event does not mean the claims "merge." The Battery (taking the bag) is a different harm than the Abandonment (leaving the Plaintiff barefoot), and both are distinct from the Conversion (the loss of the van). The Plaintiff is entitled to separate recovery for the physical fear, the loss of property, and the extreme emotional trauma caused by the Defendants' intentional and coordinated actions.

Defendant Steel Lending Group LLC is a lending company in Oregon that initiated the repossession attempt.

Defendant Superior Auto Towing is a towing company in Oregon that conducted the repossession attempt.

Defendant Superior Auto Recovery and/or Superior Auto Recovery LLC is a company in Oregon that is holding the repossessed vehicle. They are directly related to Superior Auto Towing. They are distinctly separate companies in Oregon Registry.

FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

Plaintiff's 2010 Kia Sedona, LX M, (VIN: KNDMG4C34A6326991) is consumer goods. Plaintiff disputed the validity of the loan agreement in July 2025 and received no response.

On February 26, 2026, around 3:00 PM, at 8707 SE Otty Rd., Happy Valley, OR, Superior Auto Tow and Recovery hooked Plaintiff's vehicle. The repossession attempt became unlawful upon breach of the peace when they lifted the vehicle despite Plaintiff's protests, yells of "STOP," explanations of the law (breach of peace under ORS 79.0609), and honking fully suspending it against Plaintiff's will.

Steel Lending Group LLC hiked the release fee from $600 to $1,000 in retaliation after hearing the story, claimed ownership of Plaintiff's property, and required key surrender to access belongings.

Defendants continue to withhold the vehicle without legal right, converting it to their use.

FIRST CLAIM FOR RELIEF: REPLEVIN

The repossession became unlawful due to breach of peace: lifting despite protests. Continued detention is wrongful.

Plaintiff demands immediate return of the 2010 Kia Sedona, LX M, VIN: KNDMG4C34A6326991
and all property contained therein at no cost, untouched, delivered to Plaintiff or a designated location.

Defendants wrongfully exercised dominion over Plaintiff's property inconsistent with his rights: towing without authority after breach, hiking fees punitively, claiming ownership.

This caused actual damages not less than $1,000.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Plaintiff prays for:

- a. Judgment against Defendants;
- b. Immediate return of vehicle and property at no cost;
- c. Damages not less than $1,000;
- d. Costs, disbursements, and such other relief as the Court deems just.

MEMORANDUM EMERGENCY GROUNDS

On February 26, 2026 3:00 PM, Defendant(s) Superior Auto Towing (for Steel Lending) lifted Plaintiff's occupied vehicle (his only home) off the ground while he protested and honked. This is breach of the peace per se (ORS 79.0609(2)(b)), making the repossession unlawful from that moment. Continued possession by Superior Auto Recovery and/or Superior Auto Recovery LLC = wrongful conversion. The Oregon registry has business names of the defendant's as listed though the Plaintiff was told, by different individuals among the defendant, the Defendant(s) are called:

- Superior Auto Towing, as well as
- Superior Auto Recovery, as well as
- Superior Auto Towing and Recovery.

Plaintiff has been homeless and without the ability to do much of anything.

No self sufficient means of survival since. Someone is sneaking food to him that they're not allowed to share, of which without he likely would have starved. The same person is finding ways to get propane for a heater, or he would, and still may, become hypothermic. He does not have a place to sleep other than a chair/seat removed from the back of an old van, did not have a change of clothes for nearly a full week, and now has two pairs total but nowhere to reliably wash or store them. He is borrowing a rain jacket to try and stay dry, wearing someone else's shoes, and is filthy with no available remedy. While lucky to have these things, they are not something the plaintiff has never had to think about and there is no reliable way to ensure they are maintained while still being prevented from accessing all of his belongings, along with with having the stability his living situation has been providing him reliably and safely for the last year. He has also had to stop working on multiple projects that are significant in various fields, depriving the world of far more than just his comfort and safety, but is removing his ability to build frameworks to substantially reduce energy expenditure in AI infrastructure, reducing the vast amounts of natural resources that rapidly growing industry is consuming, for a specific example.

Steel Lending heard the story of the illegal repossession, as in, they learned that it was in fact involving an obvious and significant breach of peace, where the plaintiff was falsely accused of formal detainment by law enforcement, making the entire thing a breach of ORS 79.0609 (b). They responded by raising the fee from $600 to $1,000 in retaliation, and claimed Plaintiff's personal property as theirs now (extortion ORS 164.075).

Irreparable harm is ongoing right now: exposure, no work possible, risk of illness, permanent injury, or potentially death. No adequate remedy at law exists for daily suffering and loss of shelter/ID. Likelihood of success is high. Video evidence proves breach. The Defendant(s) are requiring a "return" of the key to the vehicle, to their possession, as a condition of any item retrieval.

PLAINTIFF'S SUPPLEMENTAL MEMORANDUM IN SUPPORT OF PROVISIONAL PROCESS AND BOND WAIVER

I. EMERGENCY STATUS AND MITIGATION OF DAMAGES

This memorandum supports Plaintiff's Motion for Provisional Process under ORCP 83 (provisional process), ORCP 85 (claim and delivery), ORCP 81 (definitions). This is a narrow, emergency proceeding intended to restore Plaintiff's stability.

The immediate return of the 2010 Kia Sedona is a mechanical necessity to mitigate damages. By restoring Plaintiff's access to shelter and medical supplies, this Court prevents the further accrual of damage liability that currently mounts against the Defendants every hour the property is withheld. This is an emergency "sliver" of a much larger controversy, filed to freeze the current crisis before the March 13th auction.

II. Exhibits in Support of Bond Waiver

Plaintiff proffers the following evidence (Exhibit 1) as physical proof of the conversion and breach of peace:

1. A. Breach of Peace (ORS 79.0609(2)(b)): Time-stamped screenshots documenting the vehicle being hoisted while occupied, despite Plaintiff's protests. Capable of presenting videos directly as well. (1A.1), (1A.1.2), (1A.1.3), (1A.2.1), (1A.2.2), (1A.3.1), (1A.3.2), (1A.3.3), (1A.3.4).
2. B. Possession: Proof that Plaintiff retains the original ignition key, confirming the seizure was never legally completed. In physical possession of them currently. (2B.1), (2B.2).
3. C. ID scan (3C.1), Title Application (3C.2.1), Bill of Sale (3C.2.3), and Odometer Reassignment (3C.2.3): Documentation establishing Plaintiff's right to possession.
4. D. Second Hand Implied Confirmation: Individuals of Authority, after having reviewed full videos, responding in a manner that does not reject the legitimacy of the repossession being done unlawfully (without court order, while breaching the peace), emphasizing a claim of conversion and maintaining Plaintiff's right to have stayed in possession of, and to regain possession of, the only legally valid and true position. (4D.1), (4D2.1), (4D.2.2).

Exhibit-1A.

A. Breach of Peace (ORS 79.0609(2)(b)): Time-stamped screenshots documenting the vehicle being hoisted while occupied, despite Plaintiff's protests. Capable of presenting videos directly as well.

It may be difficult to see the difference in elevation. Refer to the traffic line.(1A.1.2) v.s. (1A.2.1).

1A.1.1 A statement of the tow companies refusal to cooperate is being made by the Plaintiff. The vehicle is lifted, but only slightly. It is not believed to be in a position yet to safely drive away.

1A.1.2 Notice the angle the vehicle sits. Especially the angle between the top of the body of the door in comparison to the yellow dotted traffic line on the road.

1A.2.1 The vehicle has been lifted up substantially further. Breaching peace further, and effectively removing the plaintiff's ability to choose to leave the situation.

1A.1.3 Breach of peace occurred as soon as the repossession attempt began. The tow truck drivers made zero effort to check the vehicle for occupants.

1A.2.2 Notice The hood is just barely visible. The kia sedona has a hood that rests at approximately a forty/five degree to the ground. It appears nearly parallel to the ground.

1A.3.1 The cops are present over this situation, further cementing the fact that further action required court approval to remain legal.

1A.3.2

1A.3.4

Beginning briefly before the first video/photo, the right for repossession required a court order to move forward. A court order was never presented to the owner of the vehicle. All of the belongings inside, including shoes, clothes, hygiene items etc. Effectively everything the plaintiff owns, have been withheld, access blocked, any item retrieval whatsoever being attached to the stipulation of giving the key over to who is currently holding roughly 95% or more of the owners belongings. Including everything from regular human necessities to sentimental items impossible to quantify the value of, the birth certificate of the plaintiff along a blanket that that he has never not had are being held in there, unlawfully.

Exhibit-2B.

B. Possession: Proof that Plaintiff retains the original ignition key, confirming the seizure was never legally completed. In physical possession of them currently.

The keys to the Kia Sedona, LX M, VIN: KNDMG43C4A6326991 shown in gallery and to highlight the timestamp on the photo (wednesday, March 12thth) establishing possession.

2B.1

2B.2

Exhibit-3-C.

C. Title Application, Bill of Sale, Odometer Reassignment, and ID Scan: Documentation establishing Plaintiff's right to possession.

3C.1.1

3C.1.2

3C.1.3

1. Title Application (3C.2.1)
2. the Odometer reassignment (3C.2.2)
3. the bill of sale (3C.2.3)

all establishing the plaintiff as the legal owner of the vehicle.

State of Oregon SECURE ODOMETER DISCLOSURE/REASSIGNMENT FOR USE IN THE STATE OF OREGON		R 4489705
State and Federal law requires an odometer disclosure when ownership is transferred for vehicles 16,000 dollars G/V/R or less and model year 2011 or newer, until that vehicle is 20 years old or older. An odometer reading must be completed upon the back of the title, if available. This form may also be used when the title is unavailable or assignment occurs on the back of the title after sale. Failure to complete an odometer disclosure or providing a false statement may result in fines and/or imprisonment. Under Oregon law, the offense of submitting a false odometer statement is a Class C Misdemeanor (ORS 315-430).

As opposed to treating the notice as baseless. This email was received around five days after the notice was sent, showing consideration and intent to respond.

To whom it may concern at Multnomah County Sheriff’s Office and Portland Police Bureau, Please forward this immediately to the proper person(s) — especially any deputies or officers who cover North Portland or the area around 6048 N Columbia Way, Superior Recovery / Superior Towing. If anyone else needs to see this right away, please forward it to them. I know there may not be one single “exact” email for this, but I need official documentation that law enforcement has been notified.

I am formally notifying you that I am going to reclaim my own 2010 Kia Sedona (VIN: KNDMG43C4A6326991) and all my personal property (wallet, ID, medications, shoes, jacket, keys, etc.) from Superior Recovery at 6048 N Columbia Way, Portland, OR 97203.

The repossession on February 26, 2026 was unlawful from the start because it was a breach of the peace per se (ORS 79.0609(2)(b)): the vehicle was occupied by me (my only home), I protested and honked, they lifted it off the ground anyway. Deputies responded, threatened force, clearly implied lethal, seized my waist bag without consent, forced me out barefoot into 35 Degrees F, and left me with nothing. Steel Lending then raised the fee from $600 to $1,000 in retaliation and claimed my personal property as theirs at one point. This is wrongful conversion and potential theft (ORS 164.015) by withholding my property.

I have already notified the DOJ, the board of towing, I sent and then asked them to ignore, a motion for release, I didn't realize that starts the law suit and I do not yet have a lawyer, but I did email Multnomah County Circuit Court and have complained to the Oregon Department of Consumer and Business Services. I intend to file everything that is relevant to this case but I need stable shelter and my clothing and medical supplies and everything.

I intend to enter the property legally and reclaim what is mine. I will do this peacefully. If they refuse to allow me to get my personal items, I will have to call the non-emergency line or 911 for assistance retrieving my personal property (civil standby / officer assistance for peaceful retrieval of my own belongings in an emergency situation caused by their unlawful actions).

This email creates the official record that I notified law enforcement in advance, that I am acting legally based on the breach of peace, and that I have evidence proving it.

I plan on doing this today, likely around 5:30pm. I may do it tomorrow if I'm unable to follow through.

Contact me immediately if needed, please leave a voicemail if calling and I will get back to you shortly. Thank you:

III. MOTION FOR WAIVER OF BOND (ORCP 82 A(6))

Plaintiff moves for a waiver of the security bond. Under ORCP 82 A(6), a bond is not required where the probability of success is high and the requirement is inequitable.

- High Probability of Success: The video record provides objective proof that the right to "self-help" was extinguished by a breach of peace.
- Inequity: Plaintiff is indigent as a direct result of Defendants' actions. A bond requirement would effectively reward the breach of peace by barring the injured party from emergency relief.

IV. EXPLICIT RESERVATION OF RIGHTS

This action addresses only the immediate legality of the property's detention. Plaintiff EXPLICITLY RESERVES ALL RIGHTS to pursue separate and distinct causes of action in the appropriate venue, including any other offenses in relation to referenced event or events. This filing shall not be construed as an election of remedies or a waiver of any claims arising from the events of February 26th, 2026 that have not specifically and directly remedied, according to the potential extent of legal action, by the outcome of these proceedings.

The Whole Thing

Talon Jeffrey Felt

March 23, 2026

Introduction

I mean it when I say, every single aspect of this that can be said, is either significant in its illegal nature or is directly inseparably tied to something that is. Each part could be the grounds for a very well justified lawsuit. This is like a feast of lawsuits. As far as I can tell, the Defendants, which include police, have blatantly broken the law with every single thing they have done in relation to this avalanche of events.

Before I get into this know that this is long if you dont want this case thats a shock to me unless you already have a ton on your plate I wouldnt want anything else that is valid or involving actual severe physical harm as apposed to constant looming of the possibility to go to the back burner because of this.

I think I am looking at a historical case, I am not positive, but if anything has ever happened like this, all directly connected like this, ive never heard anything about it, its strange in how terrible, systematic and difficult to pin it is. It seems to me it would be relatively easy to get justice on basically any individual part of this. Framing the entire thing how it should be framed, is going to be tricky and its likely going to get very involved and probably somewhat complex.

Here are facts about what ignited me reaching out to you today, sitting in week old clothes, surrounded by bottles of my own piss, from a shitty chair in a broken down van, surviving on peanut butter sandwiches and trying not to fall asleep with the buddy heater on.

Some Facts, To Get You To Read This Dense Book That Will Be A Big Case

- Van served as residence for approximately one year with planned indefinite occupancy.
- Vehicle lifted while occupied over plaintiffs objection and verbal citation of Oregon law.
- Plaintiff initiated 911; police arrived on a mischaracterized threats call.
- All personal property denied pending key surrender (stipulation = extortion).
- Fee raised $400 upon hearing plaintiffs account of the incident.
- Agents claimed ownership of all contents. Calls recorded (by lien holder mostly); incriminating statements made. Legal obligation to maintain.

- Police implied firearm, eected seizure, and left plainti barefoot in cold conditions.
- Police used threats of violence, including up to implying theyd shoot if not complied with, with no valid reason compliance was legally necessary
- Police allowed the van to be stolen after the coercing and refusal of shoe or jacket or anything retrieval

That was all almost a month ago.

Note: If you want this case, after reading everything, please contact me immediately.

Unless one of the few others Ive reached out to beats you to it, as soon as I am aware of this case being taken,

I will attempt to compile a document or set of documents that will include absolutely every relevant fact, piece of evidence, and communication record that I can think of and find, and send it to you immediately.

I, as soon as is possible, need to get my home back, or accept that its gone, I cannot stand this limbo, I need to find better living conditions.

I will be attending ex parte on monday most likely and if not or if failed, I will be seeing if there is any opening or way to retrieve my property and/or including my home and vehicle, I would love to avoid looking like I am or have trespassed unless its not only option and a peaceful exit is

How Clackamas County made sure a disabled veteran could never work again

Written: November 22, 2025

Jeffrey S. Felt is a U.S. Army veteran with traumatic brain injury and untreated PTSD.

Clackamas Countys law-enforcement and probation system has spent three years making absolutely certain he will never hold a steady job again and they did it with taxpayer money.

Here is exactly how they manufactured permanent unemployment:

- October 22, 2022 PTSD episode triggered by untreated injuries from military service. Veteran arrested. No treatment offered only punishment.
- February April 2023 Mandated into CSAP . Called a nigger lover by staff. Removed from program after complaining. Time illegally not credited (ORS 137.370). Probation extended by years instead of months.
- April 2024 Struck by hit-and-run driver while riding bicycle. Severe head laceration, broken collarbone, loss of consciousness. Hospital refused brain scan. Personality and cognition permanently changed. Lost his job the same week. No investigation, no traffic-cam review.
- March 24 & July 17, 2025 Two pretextual arrests by the same officer. No traffic violation. Used as excuse for second, overlapping probation.
- July 17, 2025 - present Veteran now on dual probation. Cannot legally drive (license suspended because of inability to pay insurance fines created by the county). Cannot pass any background check (active probation + recent arrests). Cannot get insurance (probation terms + fines). Cannot hold any job requiring reliability, transportation, or clearance.

Result: a decorated Army veteran who once worked and paid taxes is now permanently unemployable not because of his disability, but because every mechanism that was supposed to help him was weaponized to destroy his ability to earn a living. Clackamas County didnt just fail to accommodate a disabled veteran. They actively stripped away every single requirement for employment: - Transportation - Clean recent record - Stable housing - Mental-health treatment - Financial breathing room They turned a man who served this country into a full-time survival case and forced his son to live in a van to keep him from the street. This is not collateral damage. This is deliberate. This is how the system creates the very homelessness it then complains about one veteran at a time, one paycheck at a time, one lie at a time. And every dollar that paid for those arrests, those extra probation months, those ignored treatment needs, came from Oregon taxpayers who still believe their money honors veterans. It doesnt. In Clackamas County, it breaks them.

At approximately 3:00 PM on Thursday, February 26th, 2026, I went from having a home to standing barefoot on pavement in 50-degree Fahrenheit weather with a half-dead iPhone and nothing else.

No shoes. No jacket. No wallet. No ID. No charger. No money. No shelter.

That night it dropped to 35 degrees Fahrenheit.

My name is Talon Jeffrey Felt. Im 28 years old. I live in I hope a 2010 Kia Sedona. It is my home. A tow crew showed up without warning and a police officer helped them take it, while I was inside it, and then left me on the street to figure out whether I would survive the night.

Im writing this from a relatives broken-down van miles away, kept alive by a buddy heater and borrowed propane.

The Loan

In March 2025, I bought the van from a dealership who helped get a loan by a company I am calling The Lending Group. I was told the payments would be $180/month for 60 months. When I walked out with the key, the paperwork said $298/month roughly $15,000 total for a vehicle worth maybe $6,000 in perfect condition. It was never in perfect condition.

I needed it too badly to walk away. It was going to be my home.

A month later I read the contract carefully. Signatures were missing. The ones present were barely marks. I disputed the loan in July. I emailed them multiple times explaining my situation, my plans to renegotiate, and why I believe the stated amount was fraudulent. They never responded.

I had also signed for an ignition kill switch at origination thinking that if things ever went south, theyd just disable the car. They never installed it, as far as I can tell. What came instead was a tow crew.

My last email to them was in November. I was getting automated missed-payment texts. The ignition still worked. I assumed theyd decided not to act on a contract they knew was compromised.

I was wrong.

February 26th

I was lying in the back of my van working on a making a website when I heard something hit the front. The van lurched. I thought someone ran into me. They were already hooked.

I could hear the hydraulics wrrrr. Less than five seconds and they were already lifting.

No knock. No announcement. No check for occupants which is not optional under Oregon law. It is not blatantly stated, but existing laws fully imply checking for occupants is a necessity to ensure the repossession is done lawfully.

- Side note: there was a recent case, similar, but instead of 28 year old man it was a 4 year old girl. You can look it up if you want but thats all I am saying. There is no excuse for not checking in my opinion.

They lifted my home into the air with me inside it.

I honked. I had already been yelling. They stopped at the honk. I was leaning into the of the vehicle and told them that they couldnt repo the vehicle because I was inside it and protesting, that they were required by law, if anyone told them to, they had to stop, because theyre cannot self repossess if it causes any breach of peace. They told me the law I was describing didnt exist. It does.

I moved to the front seat to communicate more directly. A golf club was in my path. I moved it. The younger driver chose that exact moment to yank my door open which he had no right to do saw me holding it, and immediately shouted Dont threaten me with a golf club! I told him I wasnt threatening anyone. He looked down, saw the hatchet I keep in my door pocket for protection, slammed the door, and backed off fast. I like having some form of protection within reach living like this. You never know what might happen.

At some point they threatened to drive away with me still in the vehicle. I told them that was kidnapping.

First Video <https://youtube.com/shorts/61aA95r6Fb8?si=VxWEDz54yRrQ7aRu>

After minutes of verbal exchange, they wouldn't follow the law, I yelled at them to "Put my f car down you pathetic little bm"

They did not like that, the younger one immediately lifted me all the way up as high as the tow truck can lift. I heard my back bumper hit the ground. They lowered it slightly.

I called 911. The dispatcher told me officers were on their way to help.

Second Video <https://youtube.com/shorts/V9pR623jo0w?si=Bm2nA-4TAkTW8UVQ>

The Officers

By the time the police arrived, the tow crew had already been talking to them. Whatever they said, it worked.

The female officer who first reached my window had her hand on her firearm. Not drawn but ready. She approached a raised vehicle containing a man who had called 911, like she was approaching a combatant.

She told me to put my hands up or she would use "any and all means" to "protect herself". She told me she was responding to reports of physical threats and an active altercation. The tow drivers had apparently told her I was dangerous.

She asked if I had weapons. I said it depends on what you mean. She defined it by listing a golf club and a hatchet in the door. I added some knives, and a firearm in a bag in the back to the list. She told me that if I moved toward the rear of the vehicle she would treat me as an armed threat.

I had not touched anyone. I am the one who called for help.

She told me to get out, or they would remove me using any necessary force when backup arrived, and that if I went to the back of my van I would be treated like a threat with a firearm.

I was suspended in the air. I had no shoes. There was no safe way down. I told her she was supposed to be stopping the people trying to take my home. She told me I needed to exit the vehicle.

She asked me how the tow driver had known about the hatchet in my door, if I wasn't threatening or brandishing any weapons. I said I think the door was open at some point (I hadn't remembered the driver opening my door). She said "oh" and moved on.

Eventually I agreed to get out, I'd rather not die right before they realize the tow truck drivers cannot legally tow my vehicle away any more. Right?

After she ordered the tow crew to lower the van which is obvious proof that I had been held against my will.

The male officer who arrived with backup decided my waist bag needed to be removed from the situation. I said no. He said they had "reasonable suspicion" because I was accused of being threatening, that I had a weapon in it and was "acting weird", and that removing it was necessary for officer safety. He removed the bag over my explicit, repeated objection. Said if I tried to stop him theyd use physical force. Said “this feels heavy and it is a bag, which gives me reasonable suspicion there is a firearm inside” after it was off my body, opened my van, and threw it inside. My wallet, ID, psoriasis medication, chargers, part of my keys gone into the vehicle I was being unlawfully prevented from being allowed to enter.

They would not let me get my shoes. Would not let me get a jacket. Would not let me get anything. They let the tow truck drivers drive away.

I asked, “youre not gonna stop them??”.

He, the main officer with backup, said “This is a civil matter I cannot interfere.” After a brief exchange about how they had no right to do anything and how they had no grounds to claim I was threat, where at one point he said “thanks for not taking it there” in response to me saying if I was violent or a threat, I wouldve been shooting at the tow truck drivers way before they ever arrived on the scene, then he said “I suggest you call someone for help”.

I said “I did” and stared at him.

He looked at the ground after a second and backed away, then began walking towards his car.

They didnt arrest me. They didnt formally detain me. They just threatened me to get me out of my home then left me standing on the pavement, in socks, with no way to stay warm or do much of anything , as the temperature dropped.

Then they stood in a circle in front of me and laughed.

I yelled at them. “Laughing? Laughing? You helped take all my shit and you think its funny!?”

The same officer from about 30 feet away said “no uh we were laughing about something from earlier..”

I pulled my phone out.

What Happened After

I had to walk five miles in borrowed shoes that didnt fit. By the time I stopped, I couldnt move my leg for over a day.

I called The Lending Group from the curb. They told me $600 to get the van back, and that Id have to return the keybefore I can access any of my belongings.

Thats illegal.

The next morning they called back. The boss had heard how I “acted.” He didnt like it. The fee was raised to $1,000 because of this. My belongings, they told me, were now theirs. All of them. Including the firearm.

They have recordings, they know they are required to keep them.

What Ive Done

I filed an emergency pro se replevin action in Multnomah County Circuit Court. I got a fee waiver. I got a case number. I filed the complaint in person. I attended the ex parte hearing the next morning.

The judge handed it back without reading it. Said she couldnt help. Sent me into the rain. She couldve signed or halted the auction. She shouldve signed.

The DOJ has done nothing so far. The Board of Towing says it has “no authority.” The sheriffs department says they did nothing wrong. The Oregon Bar referred me to a car accident attorney.

The auction deadline was March 13th. They were holding it a little longer for me to try to get money to get and I dont think they understand the scope of this whole thing. I have no idea if they still have it. They did on thursday the 19th.

What I Need

Right now, $1,000 gets my van back after the lien holder installs GPS and holds it for additional days. But they had no legal right to take it, and have no legal right to keep it. Im pursuing every avenue I have to get it returned without paying people who broke the law to take it. I do not want a gps installed in my vehicle and Im disputing the loan terms as well as trying to get justice for the current situation.

If you can donate, anything is significant. I have a legal filing in progress. I have video. I have no lawyer or attorney. I have recordings. I am still here.

0.1 What This Is Really About

I was set up to die. I dont say that for effect, it is literally true. How can you expect someone to survive the night in 35 degrees with no shoes, jacket, food, water, or any way to start a fire in a wet environment. As far as I can tell, It was treated like any other day by the people who did it.

An officer approached a raised vehicle the person inside having called 911, having harmed no one with her hand on her weapon, having been told by the people breaking the law that the person inside was violent and armed and dangerous. She had already decided what was going to happen before she said a word to me. The story fell apart in front of her. She didnt care.

The tow drivers at minimum: breach of peace under ORS 79.0609(2)(b), unlawful entry of a vehicle, interference with a dwelling, and attempted kidnapping when they threatened to drive away with me inside.

The officers at minimum: unlawful seizure of property, failure to act on a reported crime in progress, coercion under color of law, and abandonment of a person in conditions likely to cause harm.

And then they laughed.

I do not understand how anyone could be okay with this happening and I cant imagine whats been done to people worse off than me. Im still here, but not everyone is. Im still cold, I wouldve died without a buddy heater. Im sure many have. Im still working. There were way more laws broken than Ive listed here. Im not done.

1 The Emails I have Sent and Received

1.1 March 1st

This Talon Jeffrey Felt writing.

I am sending to the address I was told, and to the companys website-listed address for completeness, with CCs to oversight authorities

Below I detail a small portion of the events that occurred on February 26th to establish the serious nature of this communication. The offenders are as listed.

- Steel Lending Group LLC
- Superior Towing
- The Clackamas County Sheriffs Department

To Superior Towing Management and Oregon State Oversight:

This serves as formal notice of a civil rights and criminal complaint regarding the events of February 26th, 2026.

I was inside the vehicle from the very beginning, up until I was illegally coerced and threatened to exit. From the moment I protested, the continued possession and handling of my vehicle and property has constituted unlawful conversion. This left me without essential belongings, exposed me to serious risk and continues to. This statement represents only a small portion of the offenses but underscores the urgent need for immediate remedy.

1. THE INITIAL VIOLATION (ORS 79.0609):

Superior Towing performed an illegal, occupied repossession by hoisting my vehicle while I was inside and continuing to lift it fully off the ground despite my protests. Under Oregon law, this constitutes a "breach of the peace," rendering the repossession unlawful. That is just the beginning. I was left without shoes, shelter, warmth, identification documents, any means to do much of anything at all. I was left in a position to die.

2. POLICE MISCONDUCT:

Clackamas County Deputies assisted this private civil matter by using threats of force and illegally seizing my personal property (waist bag) without a warrant, based on an unreasonable reasonable suspicion. If the suspicion was reasonable, I would have been arrested or formally detained and placed in handcuffs, not simply abandoned without shoes or property.

3. EVIDENCE PRESERVATION MANDATE:

The Clackamas County Records Clerk (CC'd) is hereby notified to IMMEDIATELY PRESERVE all Body-Worn Camera (BWC) and Dash-Cam footage from this encounter. Any destruction of this footage will be treated as spoliation of evidence in the pending litigation. The event took place on 8707 Southeast Otty Rd., Happy Valley, Oregon, on February 26 that around 2:45pm-3:45pm. The license plates of the responding officers are:

- E 296604
- E 299202
- E 29597 *

I was unable to get the last number of one of them, but the other two are on video and they were all at the same location so I'm sure all three can easily be identified.

4. textbfFINAL DEMAND:

To mitigate your immediate legal and civil liability, I demand the immediate delivery of the vehicle and all seized personal property to the address below for $0.00. The personal property will remain untouched and I will make a list of any and all damages. It is in your best interest to have it off your property immediately and delivery to the requested address is the only reasonable solution.

As confirmation.

I will be there in person. I will do my best to film the delivery so that there is no confusion about the state of the vehicle and its contents upon arrival. After the driver has dropped the vehicle and its ability to drive has been confirmed I would prefer the driver leave abruptly. I would like minimal to no contact with them.

I will be expecting the message before 9:00pm tonight. Wait until I have responded, confirming I received the message before moving forward with the delivery.

The message should include, the name and contact of the person or persons delivering, and an eta for arrival at the address listed below. Deliver it to the address below.

To whom it may concern at Multnomah County Sheriffs Office and Portland Police Bureau,

Please forward this immediately to the proper person(s) especially any deputies or officers who cover North Portland or the area around 6048 N Columbia Way, Superior Recovery / Superior Towing. If anyone else needs to see this right away, please forward it to them. I know there may not be one single exact email for this, but I need official documentation that law enforcement has been notified.

I am formally notifying you that I am going to reclaim my own 2010 Kia Sedona (VIN: KNDMG4C34A6326991) and all my personal property (wallet, ID, medications, shoes, jacket, keys, etc.) from Superior Recovery at 6048 N Columbia Way, Portland, OR 97203.

The repossession on February 26, 2026 was unlawful from the start because it was a breach of the peace per se (ORS 79.0609(2)(b)): the vehicle was occupied by me (my only home), I protested and honked, they lifted it off the ground anyway. Deputies responded, threatened force, clearly implied lethal, seized my waist bag without consent, forced me out barefoot into 35F, and left me with nothing. Steel Lending then raised the fee from $600 to $1,000 in retaliation and claimed my personal property as theirs at one point. This is wrongful conversion and potential theft (ORS 164.015) by withholding my property.

Evidence I am acting legally(incorporated by reference): Near beginning of incident:<https://youtube.com/shorts/61aA95r6Fb8?si=VxWEDz54yRrQ7aRu>

Just before or after calling 911:<https://youtube.com/shorts/V9pR623jo0w?si=Bm2nA-4TAkTW8UVQ>

Immediately after:https://youtube.com/shorts/4U_xAVukheQ?si=qGK2thGz4PLUBBpc

Full account (The title doesnt mean i feel negative towards police but unfortunately it is the truth):https://open.substack.com/pub/talonjeffreyfelt/p/this-felt-like-it-was-not-legal?r=6m18yt&utm_medium=ios

I have already notified the DOJ, the board of towing, I sent and then asked them to ignore, a motion for release, I didnt realize that starts the law suit and I do not yet have a lawyer, but I did email Multnomah County Circuit Court and have complained to the Oregon Department of Consumer and Business Services. I intend to file everything that is relevant to this case but I need stable shelter and my clothing and medical supplies and everything.

I intend to enter the property legally and reclaim what is mine. I will do this peacefully. If they refuse to allow me to get my personal items, I will have to call the non-emergency line or 911 for assistance retrieving my personal property (civil standby / officer assistance for peaceful retrieval of my own belongings in an emergency situation caused by their unlawful actions).

This email creates the official record that I notified law enforcement in advance, that I am acting legally based on the breach of peace, and that I have evidence proving it.

I plan on doing this today, likely around 5:30pm. I may do it tomorrow if Im unable to follow through.

Contact me immediately if needed, please leave a voicemail if calling and I will get back to you shortly. Thank you: (mail receival through family) 180 Fenton Ave. Apt. 20, Molalla, OR 97038

March 16th To Steel Lending Group,

Good morning. Sorry I missed your call I was finishing this up. If it was an urgent message I would appreciate a response in email.

As you can see I have not yet gotten the money. Im writing to let you know exactly what Im doing to try to get the money to get my van back, and to make sure were on the same page:

- I am selling a ruby and raw Jadeite Jade that was given to me by a relative.
- Im reaching out to various kinds of financial help
- Basically anything else I can think of until I get the money

But when I get the money, before I pay it, I need to make sure you guys understand what youre requiring payment for. You need to know the details of what happened. The tow company hoisted the van while I was still inside it. That is a violent breach of the peace, but it was more than that.

Read the full story here:

https://open.substack.com/pub/talonjeffreyfelt/p/this-felt-like-it-was-not-legal?r=6m18yt&utm_medium=ios

I filed these in an attempt to just get my vehicle back, they dont cover everything.

- Replevin
- Complaint

I made these on my iPhone. Latex.

I had already ccd Steel Lending Group all of this, or nearly all of it at least. I assumed it had been seen, but on the phone it did not seem it was very well understood at all.

This is all very serious. As of right now, what is going on is completely illegal, a court order was required as soon as the hooked onto my car, because I was in it. There have already been various further offenses on top of just having everything I own and need withheld from me. This is not the kind of thing anyone just lets go. Im just looking for a lawyer.

Id much rather just have my vehicle back as is and go from there. Returning it now would show that Steel Lending doesn't support what that tow company did. If steel lending is holding firm on requiring $1,000 from me, then Ill make sure to let you guys know when I come up with the money.

I would really not like it if it went to auction and legally it is currently being held unlawfully, any sale would be equivalent to selling a stolen vehicle. Also, I need to be able to retrieve my belongings with-out being extorted for the car key, so if you guys would let superior recovery know that, that would make things a bit more legal. I do not consent to having a GPS installed in my vehicle. We are not to the part where that was planned to happen yet, but I need that understood.

I would rather have it with a gps then not have it but I do not consent to the installation of anything whatsoever. I dont trust anyone on my car really. I dont even like people doing simple repairs, and if I have the tools they dont. I really dont want some who knows what device rigged up to wipe my ecm whenever you guys feel like it. Its not even just that I didnt agree to $298 a month, on top of that there are unnecessary processing fees and on my last made payment, I had the money in my account, you guys said it bounced without attempting to charge me. I sent the money in the mail instead. If have to double check but I think you guys just said you never got it and I have the record of it being cashed.

With a GPS hardwired into my ECM, even with me doing everything by the book, with situation I just referenced that literally happened, Id be in default because you guys said so and now you have a direct line to wipe my cars brain and take my home. Im not okay with that. No one would be. I just like having shelter and my property. You guys were never not going to get paid, just not 15k, or $300 every month for a 15 year old car with nearly 200,000 miles that, since two days off the lot, has never once not had the engine light on. Three hundred+ a month, for a car with struts that could collapse at any second, a misfire in cylinder five, a serpentine belt pulley without a mount, an ancient permanent code because someone drove it with a bad gear ratio, and an oil leak. I doubt you could even get 2k out of this thing but maybe there is something about this that makes it worth all this for you guys that Im just missing. The way

I see it, what I wouldve done, as soon as I found out what, anything that had happened that could be a liability, occurred, like a direct breaking of just about the only relevant law with self help repossession, being inarguably broken on video, I would do everything I can to reverse what just happened under my name, and do my best immediately try mitigate damages, for the good of the company if for nothing else. Steel Lending Group Raised the price by $400. I must be missing something.

I would prefer all communication be done over email. If I receive a phone call and do not pick it up it is not me being unreachable. You are welcome to reach me here.

I intend to retrieve as much of my items as soon as I can and I have no intention of returning the key at that time.

By the way, the door isnt even locked unless my privacy has been violated, no reason to require the key for an installation, and the vehicle is not in condition to drive. I had a repair I was going to do that day. It can drive but it would be a kind of vandalism. Reckless and negligent at the very least. The vehicle is not roadworthy in its current state without the multiple repairs I was scheduled to perform. Any operation by your agents risks further damage for which Steel Lending Group would be liable. I guess it wouldnt make a big difference considering the list that keeps building. Upon return, I will handle all use and repairs as the owner. If I wasnt in horrible conditions with everything I have on the line, Id be looking forward with curiosity as to how Steel Lending sees any of this as beneficial to anyone.

Sincerely,
Talon Jeffrey Felt

Legal Analysis and Case Valuation

Talon Jerrey Felt Plainti
Contingency Fee Opportunity for Oregon Civil Rights Attorneys

Documented Evidence (as much as I can) No Up front Client Costs Multiple Causes of Action

March 21, 2026

Executive Summary of Incident:

Vehicle is plaintiff's primary residence (occupied $\approx$ 1 year, indefinite planned tenancy).

Failed repossession of a 2010 Kia Sedona February 26, 2026 Steel Lending Group LLC / Superior Recovery.

Threats of violence were used to coerce, the coercion acted as the method to successfully take all of the stolen property

Repossession required the surrender of the keys to the vehicle. That never happened. Extortion using all belongings to obtain the key is current situation

Core Facts

THIS VEHICLE IS MY HOME

- Vehicle was lifted while occupied, despite plaintiff's verbal objections and citation of Oregon law breach of ORS 79.0609(2)(b).
- Video evidence documents: the lift, denial of personal property, and police response on scene.
- Plaintiff called 911; responding officers stated someone had reported threats a factual inversion consistent with coercion and seizure.
- Recovery fee raised from $600 to $1,000 after plaintiff described the circumstances text-book retaliatory price-hike and potential extortion.
- Agents claimed ownership of all vehicle contents and conditioned return of personal property on surrender of keys.
- Incriminating recorded statements: repo agent stated repossession was not complete without keys, threatened to replace locks and charge plaintiff if keys were not produced (vehicle was unlocked).
- Calls legally recorded under ORS 165.540 (one-party consent); original recordings compellable via ORCP 43.
 - I thought I had recordings but I can't get my phone call recording working, the most important stuff is required to be stored by the defendants, if it's not its spoilage, I won't get accused of spoilage, I literally accidentally sent a recording where you can only hear me oops, embarrassing but backs any claim that I did not delete calls I said I was recording
- Police actions on scene constitute civil rights violations unreasonable seizure, excessive force (firearm drawn), and deprivation of essentials (left barefoot in cold).

1.2 Case Value Estimate

I want everything possible. I am willing to do anything that will help this case and that is honest. I would prefer to have this in the news and be able to speak openly about it. I don't lie and everything in this is based on the reality of the situation. There is no twisting to fit a narrative so I do not think being open publicly holds any risk. I do think it holds benefit, especially if we go to trial and I want everyone to know that this was done, so that it can help put a stop to anything like this. I want this to be an example of what can happen if you stick up for yourself and do not let people in positions of authority act as criminals, thieves and bullies.

$8,000,000 $18,000,000+ in potential recovery. Basis: breach-of-peace damages, occupied-vehicle multiplier, civil rights claims (1983), dwelling-removal violation, robbery/extortion/retaliation, actual harm, and attorney fees under ORS 79.0625(3)(c) and 42 U.S.C. 1988.

Comparable unoccupied breach-of-peace settlements: $25,000 - $100,000. This case involves occupation, a protected dwelling, civil rights violations, and recorded incriminating statements factors that multiply exposure substantially.

Causes of Action:

- Van served as residence for approximately one year with planned indefinite occupancy.
- Factual Basis Operative Facts Vehicle lifted while occupied over plaintiff's objection and verbal citation of Oregon law.
- Plaintiff initiated 911; police arrived on a mischaracterized "threats" call.
- All personal property denied pending key surrender (stipulation = extortion).
- Fee raised $400 upon hearing plaintiff's account of the incident.
- Agents claimed ownership of all contents. Calls recorded (by lien holder mostly); incriminating statements made. Legal obligation to maintain.
- Police implied firearm, effected seizure, and left plaintiff barefoot in cold conditions.
- Police used threats of violence, including up to implying they'd shoot if not complied with, with no valid reason compliance was legally necessary.
- Police allowed the van to be stolen after the coercing and refusal of shoe or jacket or anything retrieval.

Specific Violations

Breach of Peace ORS 79.0609(2)(b)

A secured party may not take possession if doing so would constitute a breach of the peace. Lifting an occupied vehicle over the debtor's objection constitutes force and endangerment a per se breach. Consequence:

the repossession is unlawful, ORS 83.670 is unenforceable, and all subsequent retention is tortious.

Robbery in the First Degree (2)(a)(c)

Robbery in the Third Degree (1)(a)(b)

Cops threatened to treat as if an active threat with firearm, to use any all means, physical force, with the intent to was to remove someone from their own vehicle for it to then be taken

Towers used the cops and likely attempted loss of life to occur, priming cops to deal with serious
(2) Robbery in the first degree is a Class A felony.

Conversion Common Law / ORS Ch. 30

Exercising unlawful dominion over plaintiff's chattel (personal belongings inside the vehicle) for which no security interest exists. The conditional-return demand (keys-for-belongings) and the blanket ownership claim independently constitute conversion. Incriminating threats to change locks add evidence of intentional deprivation.

Coercion / Extortion ORS 163.275

Threatening to withhold property and inflict financial harm (lock replacement charges) to compel a specific act (key surrender). Recorded calls constitute direct evidence. Both criminal exposure and civil liability attach.

Unlawful Trade Practices ORS 646.607 / 646.608

Fee raised $400 based on plaintiff's account of the circumstances an unconscionable and retaliatory practice. The ownership of all contents claim is a further misrepresentation.

1. Dwelling Removal Restriction ORS 90.485

Where a vehicle constitutes a dwelling, removal without proper notice and process is an unlawful ouster. One year of residence with planned indefinite occupancy meets the dwelling threshold. ORS 90.485(2)(f) applies.

Occupied-Vehicle Tow Violation ORS 98.853

Oregon's occupied-vehicle tow statute permits towing only unoccupied or blocking vehicles. Lifting an occupied vehicle is an independent statutory violation.

Civil Rights 42 U.S.C. 1983 Acting under color of state law, officers:

- Unreasonably seized plaintiff's person and property without probable cause;
- Used excessive force (firearm drawn absent any credible threat);
- Deprived plaintiff of due process by leaving him without essentials (barefoot, in cold conditions).
- Claims actionable against the Sheriff's Department and individual officers. Attorney fees recoverable under 42 U.S.C. 1988.

Police Misconduct ORS 30.831

Excessive force in the course of the repossession response. The false threats characterization of plaintiff's 911 call warrants independent scrutiny and may support a malicious-action theory.

Contingency-Fee Opportunity for Counsel

Evidence in hand: Video of occupied lift and denial of property Legally recorded incriminating phone calls 911 call records Police report Court filing documents

This case presents a straightforward contingency profile:

- Liability anchor: Breach of peace is documented on video. No factual dispute about occupation at the time of the lift.
- Damages multipliers: Dwelling status, civil rights claims (1983), extortion, and retaliation each independently increase exposure beyond a standard breach-of-peace settlement.

- Compellable evidence: Incriminating calls are compellable under ORCP 43 regardless of whether the opposing party produces them voluntarily.
- Fee recovery: Both ORS 79.0625(3)(c) and 42 U.S.C. 1988 provide prevailing-party attorney fee recovery, reducing the net cost to the contingency arrangement.
- Typical contingency range: 33% 40% of gross recovery.

Potential Recoveries

Note: loan payments made without waiver of rights under UCC Article 9 do not validate an otherwise unlawful repossession.

Anticipated Defenses and Responses

- D1. Defense: Mere objection is insufficient; actual violence is required for a breach-of-peace finding.
- Response: Oregon courts and UCC commentary recognize that lifting an occupied vehicle creates an inherent risk of force and endangerment satisfying the breach standard. Physical confrontation is not a prerequisite.
- D2. Defense: ORS Chapter 90 (landlord-tenant) does not apply to a motor vehicle.

- Response: ORS 90.230 recognizes non-manufactured-housing vehicles as dwellings where circumstances support it. One year of continuous residence with planned indefinite occupancy meets that threshold. The dwelling-removal analysis does not depend solely on ORS 90.
- D3. Defense: Delay in returning property was reasonable; no conversion occurred.
- Response: The delay was conditional on key surrender (no lien basis) and accompanied by an ownership-of-contents claim. Conditioning return on a concession to which the agent had no legal right is conversion and extortion regardless of time elapsed.
- D4. Defense: Default in loan payments authorized repossession; breach of peace is a separate element.
- Response: Correct and breach invalidates the entire repossession. A creditor who breaches the peace forfeits self-help repossession rights entirely and must proceed judicially. Post-breach retention of the vehicle is independently tortious.
- D5. Defense: Police had reasonable suspicion based on the reported threats call.
- Response: Plainti was the initiating 911 caller. The inversion of that call into a threats report, arriving as it did precisely when plainti was asserting legal rights, raises serious questions about its origin and good faith. Police response hands up, seizure, abandonment without essentials was excessive on any view of the facts.
- D6. Defense: Any judicial denial of emergency relief moots the claims.
- Response: An ex-parte denial on procedural or evidentiary grounds does not extinguish the underlying substantive causes of action. Emergency procedural posture and ultimate liability are distinct questions. Documentation of the emergency filing is itself evidence of timely action.

Standard breach-of-peace settlements for unoccupied vehicles run $25,000 - $100,000. This case involves an occupied vehicle that is a legal dwelling, documented extortion, a retaliatory fee hike, blanket property claims, 1983-actionable police conduct, and recorded incriminating statements. The floor here is substantially higher than a standard repossession dispute. This is more a civil rights case that has a repossession dispute in it.

I went to see if I could see my van by looking over the fence and trying to spot it. I am not entirely sure if they still have it but my airpods are there, The location tracking shows them there. I think I could hear them using my bluetooth speaker as well.
